Hoover's Legacy Blots Criticism

If a man is to be judged by what he leaves behind him, few men have deserved better tributes from their fellow citizens than those being paid to the memory of J. Edgar Hoover.

What he leaves behind is something he virtually created by himself and maintained over nearly half a century as one of the finest and most respected organizations of its kind in the world, the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Any criticisms that have been or may be made against Hoover pale before this fact.

A short while before his death, Hoover wrote a letter to a reporter who had requested an interview. In it he stated he did not feel it necessary to reply to his critics. Every year, he said, he went before Congress to report on the past year's activities of the FBI and to present his budget for the coming year. He was content to let the record speak for itself.

That record was never having any budget request denied or whittled down, never having to explain a scandal or failure of performance by the FBI.

John Edgar Hoover's personal career statistics are equally impressive. As a young law school graduate of 22, he joined the Justice Department in 1917. In 1924, he took over the FBI's predecessor bureau, one which was indeed subject to charges of ineptness and inefficiency. He set high standards for the FBI from the beginning and never tolerated any departure from them.

Hoover achieved fame as the nation's "top cop"—although the FBI is not and never was a police organization—in the 1920s and 1930s fighting the likes of John Dillinger and Baby Face Nelson and other vicious characters spawned by Prohibition and the Depression.

Millions of kids idolized this man, the stern, bulldog visage and dream of being G-men.

Perhaps the FBI's greatest triumph was the rounding up of submarine-landed saboteurs and the complete smashing of Nazi espionage in this country during World War II.

Hoover's total government service spanned 55 years, that as director of the FBI 48 years under 16 attorneys general and eight presidents, the last two of whom saw fit to waive mandatory retirement age in his case. No successor will ever equal this.

In recent years, as he grew old and perhaps too convinced of his own indispensability, Hoover's image became somewhat tarnished. It was said that the FBI ignored organized crime, that Hoover saw too many Communists under too many beds, that he had too keen an interest in the private affairs of prominent people.

It was whispered that he had a dossier on every official in Washington, which was why no one dared oppose him, either in the White House or on Capitol Hill.

But one thing no one has ever been able to charge against the FBI is that it ever played fast and loose with the constitutional rights of Americans. Long before certain Supreme Court decisions, which some claim have "hand-cuffed" law enforcement, the FBI observed the rights of a suspect against self-incrimination and to be represented by an attorney.

The FBI deals in evidence, meticulously gathered, not the confession tactics of a Gestapo or N.K.V.D.

It is no disrespect to Hoover to say that he left public service in the only way he would have agreed to, had he the choice—still in harness and in full command of the FBI, departing life suddenly to the grief of his admirers and the consternation of those who would have taken pleasure in seeing him put out to pasture.

One of J. Edgar Hoover's last statements was this: "I have a philosophy. You are honored by your friends and you are distinguished by your enemies. I have been very distinguished."

Now he is nothing but honored.

Italians hold a general election a year ahead of schedule on May 7 and 9 in an unprecedented atmosphere of gloom.
It generally is being conceded that the Christian Democrats, who have ruled alone or in coalition since the end of World War II, once more will emerge as Italy's largest party.

But after that, chaos emerges, the most hopeful prediction being that Italy will continue to muddle along as it has for years.

The worst that is predicted is civil war if the Christian Democrats should attempt a coalition either with the Neo-Fascists or the Communists. Meanwhile, both the Communists and the Neo-Fascists are doing their best to appear respectable.

Neo-Fascist leaders are asking their followers to wear black shirts and to display no pictures of the late dictator, Benito Mussolini. Their chief appeal to the voters is as a law and order party based on the fallacious claim that the killings, kidnappings and robberies from which Italy is suffering at the moment never happened under Fascist rule. (They did happen but were not publicized.)

On the Side of the Angels
The Communists also have declared on the side of the angels, calling for "an electoral campaign in a civil and democratic climate."

The Communists are led by a doleful-looking Sardinian nobleman named Enrico Berlinguer, and their condemnation of extremist "adventurism" is reminiscent of the stern language used by French Communists against the disorders that rocked France in May, 1968.

Those were the disorders that almost toppled Charles de Gaulle.

Extremists of both the right and left help to confuse the picture by seeming at times to encourage each other. In Milan, an anarchist has been accused of planting a bomb in a Milan bank in December, 1969, that killed 16 people. But a Neo-Fascist has been accused of engineering the outrage.

Since the end of the Fascist period under Mussolini, Italy has made little real headway in social gains.

Everything Disorganized
Its schools, courts, hospitals, housing and public transit are disorganized and out of date. Dissatisfaction with them has led increasingly to violent demonstrations.

Among nearly a dozen political parties, Italians find it easier to give reasons for voting against than in favor.

The Christian Democrats are united only by their loyalty to the Roman Catholic Church. Their sentiments run from close to Marxism on the left to an approach to fascism on the right. No one leader can speak for the entire party.

Industrial and political turmoil has produced economic stagnation which extends beyond her own frontiers and effects her relations with her partners in the European Common Market because of her inability to carry out all of her obligations to the market.

With so many so sure they can guess the outcome of the elections, it is the right time for an upset. But it would have to be an upset with some of the qualities of a miracle to cure Italy's ills.

Tough Time Waits Nixon In Moscow

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Bits and pieces of information trickling from behind the Iron Curtain suggest President Nixon will have his hands full in Moscow later this month to keep from being boxed in.

Indications are the Russians are fully aware of the President's political problems — farmers hurting from the heavy supply of feed grains, with Mr. Nixon needing the farm vote. He must have more exports, an improvement in the balance of payments and an overall sharp improvement in the economic outlook to insure his reelection. In addition, because of the hopes he has aroused, he requires some sort of a strategic arms limitation agreement and a noticeable improvement in Vietnam.

The extremely able Soviet ambassador in Washington, Anatoly F. Dobrynin, is known to this reporter as a careful and astute political and economic observer, who most certainly has sent Moscow carefully detailed analyses of Mr. Nixon's domestic problems and what type of public reaction could hurt him most on Nov. 7.

The Russians aim at extracting a heavy price in return for giving Mr. Nixon even part of what he wants. They expect cheap credits for grain, sizable dollar and technological investment in Soviet mining and industry, an easing of U.S. bans on exports of various high-technology goods to Russia and a cutback on U.S. restrictions on imports from the Soviet Union.

Moscow also will demand, directly or indirectly, subtly or unsubtly, Mr. Nixon's cooperation in securing public U.S. and West European recognition of Russia's special position in East Europe and the inviolability of that position.

This information comes directly and indirectly from private academic and business sources, from government economic specialists and diplomats dealing with the Russians and from other private organizations with connections in the Soviet Union and East Europe.

The Russians, of course, will attempt to minimize their own serious problems—the growing demand for meat in the Soviet Union and East Europe and the serious political consequences of failing to solve that problem.

They will gloss over the serious winter crop failures and the consequent heavy Soviet need for grain in quantities. They will not stress the Soviet shortage of cash and their urgent need for credit to buy grain in the quantities they require.

They will attempt to hide the very serious internal economic decisions they will be forced to make if U.S. credit is not forthcoming—and the possibly unhappy domestic political repercussions which may follow from those decisions.

The President is doing what he can in advance to keep the very clever Brezhnev from boxing him in. He is pouring aid all-out into the Vietnam war, to break the back of the DMZ invasion; before the Moscow visit—so the Russians will not have this to whipsaw him with.

He has visited Canada to deal with Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau on grain sales, to make certain the Russians will not be able to play the Canadians and Americans against each other in grain.

He has sent Dr. Henry Kissinger to Moscow to lay the cards on the table in an attempt to reach agreements in principle in advance of his own trip. Only time will tell, of course, how well he succeeds.

Ann Landers:

Origin Uncertain But Message Clear

Dear Ann: A piece appeared in The Beth El Youth Teen Topics that might be of interest to your readers. No one knows whether it was written by Rabbi M. H. Elovitz of Birmingham, Alabama, or some teen who asked that his identity not be revealed. The authorship is not important, but the message is.

The Man I Wanted To Be,

Or Too Bad I Got Busted

Man, it's a bad scene, a real bummer. Who would've thought it could happen to me? I mean, like it was something cool to do. Just part of the scene. So some kids experiment. So what? Besides, it'll be legal in a few years anyway. Damn the establishment! You'd think the fuzz was born with sirens in their heads and "do-good" stamped on their bottoms. Hell, weren't they ever kids?

It could've been you. You just lucked out. Anyway, getting booked was really gross. All that fingerprinting jazz. I called my old man and he was ever ticked off. He had to hire a lawyer to get me out. He's got influence. I thought I'd get off with a reprimand, maybe grounded for a while and that would be the end of it. It wasn't.

They booked me and I've got a record. I was going to law school but now that's screwed up. Medical school won't accept me either when the time comes. Why should I suffer? Look at all the kids who do dope and never get a glove laid on 'em.

You should have seen my mom's face. Even all that makeup couldn't cover her shame. You'd think I had committed a crime. It was weird. It's not like I didn't know it was illegal, it's just that everybody's doing it and I was the one who got nailed. Besides, I was holding it for a buddy—only took a couple of drags.

There must be some way to clean up this mess. I'm sure as hell not a criminal. I just got mixed up with a little illegal fun. Funny, somehow I don't think the Dean of Admissions will buy it. Oh well, I can always be a plumber or go into my dad's business. On second thought—I wonder if my dad would hire me.—Origin Uncertain

Dear Friend: Maybe the origin is uncertain, but the message is clear. Thank you for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: People write to you about things that bother them. May I add my complaint, please? Whenever I find myself at a place where women gather, the first thing that happens is, out comes the pictures from the purses. "This is my daughter and her four children." Or, "We have new pictures of our grandchildren. Here is Louise, next to Richard. The one in front is Lester. Doesn't he look like his father?"

It's bad enough when I know the family but when a stranger corners me with snapshots I could scream. Why would a person you've never seen before (and will probably never see again) show another stranger pictures of her family?

Before I leave on a cruise this fall, I'm going to take a picture of the dogs and cats in the neighborhood and carry them in self defense. When a woman hands me pictures of her grandchildren I'm going to hand her mine. Would this be wrong?—Pittsburgh Reader

Dear Pitt: Wrong? No. But don't be surprised if you get some compliments. People have shown me pictures of their pets with the same pride a parent has in his child and I've had to say, "How cute!"

Law For Today

Q. My friends recently returned from a trip West with an adorable baby mountain lion. My husband insists they can't keep him at home, even though he's a baby and seemingly harmless. Is this true?

A. Yes. Illinois law specifically prohibits keeping a mountain lion (and a number of other animals and poisonous reptiles) in a private home. The law does allow keeping them in a zoo, circus, educational institution research laboratory, veterinary hospital or animal refuge.

Thoughts On National Hospital Week

A cynic, it has been said, is a man who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing. That thought deserves consideration in connection with the Passavant Memorial Area Hospital Association's announcement that this is National Hospital Week.

We live in an age of cynicism, and hospitals certainly have been the target of their share. Hospital costs have been widely discussed, and the occasions for criticism will become even more frequent as the subject of national health insurance receives increasing national attention.

No one, certainly not the hospital people themselves, denies that hospital costs have risen at an unprecedented rate, as have the costs of all service-oriented businesses which must allocate the major portion of their budgets to wages and salaries. A less readily understood reason for the increase in hospital costs is indicated in the slogan for National Hospital Week: "We Want You... In The Picture Of Health." It expresses not only the hospitals' traditional dedication to making sick people healthy but also their modern commitment to providing the framework for keeping people healthy. That's a big order, and it cannot be filled cheaply.

This is not to say that the cost of hospital care should not be scrutinized and monitored. It should be and is; often it has been the nation's hospitals which have led the way. But if the American people want a health care system that will provide all the services for all the people all the time (and the action in Washington leads us to think they do), then it is only realistic to weigh the cost against the value received.

'Films Are The Thing'

By RALPH NOVAK
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Canadian film-maker Claude Jutra, though he fairly bristles with international awards, is a virtual unknown to American audiences. And it probably won't break his heart even if the situation stays that way.

ACCLAIMED IN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES for "My Uncle Antoine," Claude Jutra, left, with stars Jacques Gagnon (the boy Benoit) and Jean Duceppe (Antoine) is surprised by his own success.

He is still, however, far short of the stereotypical movie magnate who dreams only of making a film with John Wayne, Paul Newman, Steve McQueen, Frank Sinatra, Doris Day and 500,000 extras and becoming the rage of Hollywood. He even betrays a certain lack of manic dedication to the pursuit of an Oscar.

There are other things in life besides winning Oscars," Jutra says. "I would be perfectly happy making one small-budget film a year in Quebec and letting it go at that."

As a 39-year-old, Jutra won first prize at the 1969 Canadian Film Awards for directing and writing and he has been absorbed in movies ever since, trying his hand at every job in the business except making popcorn. Up until now, his best-known film here was "Take It All" ("A Tout Prendre") and if, as is likely, you have never heard of it, you have some indication of how famous he is.

"My Uncle Antoine" may change all that. The story of a boy growing up in the 1940s in an asbestos mining town in Quebec, it is a classic film reminiscent of Francois Truffaut's "The 400 Blows," subtle, straightforward and filled with the powerful emotional discoveries of adolescence.

Jutra was co-writer, co-editor and director of the film, in addition to acting in a major role. It is very much his movie. "This was something very deep in my heart," he says. "I look back to my own childhood with warmth. There are moments of misery but it is still something you like to go back to."

Going back to earlier days in fashion these days and Jutra recognizes the relationship between "My Uncle Antoine" and the wave of restrained nostalgia that led to such American films as "The Last Picture Show" and "Summer of '42."

"I think there is a general sadness today, a feeling that things aren't going very well," he says. "And we have no place to run away to now except the past."

"In films, so many of the effects have been milked that the most enormous statements have become cliches and we have to come back to genuine moral values."

Jutra refuses to be any more specific about what those "moral values" are. He relies, he insists, on the film to transmit his ideas.

"I always try to please myself with my films," he says. "You can't please everybody and you shouldn't try, because if you do you end up with a formula film."

"I want the audience to come out of this film feeling happier, a little closer to their fellow man. And I would be happy if this film is something that leads to love."

But then Jutra seems embarrassed that he has made a remark that borders on the pretentiousness he so studiously avoids. He is, after all, a man who is anxious only to get back to Quebec to work on his next film and a man who is still a little stunned by the popular acceptance "My Uncle Antoine" received in Canada. "You know, in Toronto, for the first time I saw a queue of people going to one of my films wrapping around the block," he says. "I kept going back to look at it."

BOARD ELECTS GOP CHAIRMAN IN CASS CO.

BEARDSTOWN — Robert Patterson, Republican representative of Beardstown District 10, was elected chairman of the Cass county board at an organizational meeting at the Virginia courthouse Monday.

Patterson defeated Ralph Kitchen, Democrat, in the recent county board election, and was the unanimous choice of the board at its first meeting. Mrs. Esther Morrison, Arenzville, was named temporary chairman when the board assembled Monday morning. A credentials committee was chosen to establish the eligibility of the members.

A drawing was held to indicate which members will serve four-year terms and which members will serve two years. The new chairman drew a two-year term.

River High Both the Illinois and the Sangamon rivers are spreading out over the lowlands, threatening country roads and inundating fields where farmers would like to work.

The Illinois river at Beardstown climbed past the 17 foot mark Monday for the highest mark in about two years.

Residents in the Sangamon Valley sector said they were "hurting" as a result although the "lower road" will not be flooded unless the river stage hits more than 18 feet.

Fishermen were happy about the situation and scores of rodmen were converging in the creek areas and some were even fishing in low fields.

Carp and sunfish were reported in fairly good supply.

The muddy fields will not be ready for some time for the corn planters, even if the rivers start falling soon.

But farmers say they can wait until the last of the month to plant and still expect good crops.

Williamson Wants Honest Black Films

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Blacks used to complain, with reason, that there were never any movies featuring blacks. Along came "Cotton Comes to Harlem" and "Shaft," which made piles of money, and now the complaint is on the other foot.

Fred Williamson, the ex-pro football star, ex-architect and ex-psychologist who has become a fine actor, thinks soon there will be too many black films. He feels most of them will be cheap attempts to capitalize on the black box office potential.

Anyhow it's not the quantity but the quality that mainly troubles him. He'd like to see honesty in the black films. He thinks the one he just finished—"The Legend of Nigger Charley"—is the first honest black western.

He even has some bones to pick with "Shaft." He says it wasn't an honest film.

"I never met a man like Shaft," he says. "I don't know anybody who can take a machine gun blast in the chest in the morning and then, completely healed, climb down the side of a building in the afternoon."

Honest or not, the trend continues. At the moment, there are several black films being shot—a sequel to "Shaft," the first black horror movie, "Blacula," and "Come Back Charleston Blue." The latter is being directed by Mark Warren, the young black director from Laugh-In.

THIS MASKED star of "Terror of the Red Capes" shifts his acting base from Italian quickies to Hollywood. Tony Russell built a following in Italy in 10 years of filming there. Will he score in the United States with such movies as the new "The Day the Lord Got Busted?"

'Pizza' Film Star Turns To Hollywood

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Most Americans have never heard the name Tony Russell. But stop any Italian, ask him and he'll know it.

Russel is one of the actors who had to leave home to make it. He's back in the United States now, after some 10 years in Italy, where he starred in a flock of movies with names like "Secret of the Sphinx," "The Spartan Gladiator" and "Terror of the Red Capes."

He says none of them has ever been shown in theaters here but a few were televised on the late, late, late show. They're great to watch while eating pizzas.

But he's back here now, trying to get a career going in his home country. It isn't easy. It's like starting all over again. He's just finished a role in a quickie called "The Day the Lord Got Busted," a film about Jesus freaks, which stars Fabian.

Tony says that filming in Italy is fun, once you get used to it. For example, they don't care about the words, as they're filming, because they dub everything later. So some of the actors don't even bother to learn their lines. He says he's done scenes with actors who just keep counting—the Italian equivalent of one-two-three-four-etc.—instead of saying lines.

"Otherwise," he says, "the only thing you have to worry about is getting paid." He says even the Italians worry about that. The great actor-director, Vittorio de Sica, according to Russel, has a policy of reporting to work but not doing anything until he gets his day's pay—in cash.

"I've seen him wait around until 10 a.m.," he says, "refusing to work until the banks open so they can get the cash to pay him."

Once More for the Ladies The production offices of Hollywood have always been a masculine preserve. It was one big stag party. But, of late, the ladies have been cracking through more and more. The credits for "Boxcar Bertha" read: Associate producer Julie Corman.

There are those who will say that that doesn't mean too much, because Julie is Mrs. Roger Corman and he produced the movie. But, actually, she had a lot to do with "Boxcar Bertha."

Corman had a huge hit in "Bloody Mama," and wanted to make another movie about a female criminal. So Julie, an experienced researcher, dug around. She even had friends with the FBI helping her search.

Eventually, she came up with the story of Boxcar Bertha Thompson, a true figure in the '20s and '30s. And she did much of the subsequent research, contributing to the authentic look she says the finished product has.

Julie, a tall, slender, attractive

Nichols' Next HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Mike Nichols will direct "The Day of the Dolphin" as his next film for Avco Embassy pictures.

They gripe about me and Jim Brown and Bernie Casey getting starring roles," Williamson says, "when they can't. That's just tough. They aren't big enough to run us out of the business. They don't realize you have to be a saleable commodity to make it in pictures. If they ever were saleable, they're not any more."

The only thing that vaguely bothers him is that he doubts "The Legend of Nigger Charley" will ever get on TV—because the word "nigger" is used throughout. He says it's the whites who don't like it.

"Blacks have been calling each other 'nigger' for generations," he says. "But the whites get all up tight about it."

Adoption Service

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — A Brazilian housewife is matching unwanted babies with suitable childless couples in an underground adoption service that she says is working out "just fine."

Hernani Bessa Lira, 28, said she got started four years ago when a poor unwed mother asked her to take in an unwanted baby.

Adoption by childless couples is not organized or encouraged by the state or private charities in Brazil and has never become a regular practice. Mrs. Lira felt the young mother had nowhere to turn.

"I nearly said no, but the baby was so nice, and the mother so desperate that I told her I would keep the child, although I already had four and was expecting the fifth," Mrs. Lira said.

"At first, Lucenira thought I was joking when I said the baby was a gift. But when I insisted she consulted her husband and he accepted."

"You should see the happiness in their eyes. Soon afterwards, they were showing the baby to neighbors, and Lucenira kept repeating 'Look, I've got a son!'"

There is nothing like seeing the happiness in the faces of the mothers who know their babies are in good hands, and especially the joy of the childless couples," she says.

Mrs. Lira who lives in Recife, Brazil's second largest city, started by telling people to inform unwed mothers that she would deliver their unwanted babies to good foster parents.

MUNICH (UPI) — Bavarian breweries produced over 660.4 million gallons of beer in 1971, 4.1 per cent above the previous year and enough to supply every Bavarian with 58 gallons. The biggest beer production month was December when 57 million gallons were produced.

Guided Tours Offer 'Most'

By MURRAY J. BROWN
UPI Travel Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the easiest—and most economical—ways for the visitor on his own to see the highlights of a city is by a guided sightseeing tour by bus.

Sightseeing companies in major cities usually offer a wide selection of itineraries which include most of the outstanding attractions and places of interest. How many of these "musts" the stranger will get to see will depend on how much time and money he can spend.

I've taken guided bus tours in scores of cities around the world. When I have the time, I return later to those places which interested me the most. There are any number of companies in this highly-competitive business. One of the biggest has to be the Gray Line whose buses with the easily-identifiable blue-and-gray diamond-shaped logo I have seen in New York and Los Angeles, Tokyo and Hong Kong, London and Paris and many other cities.

Bus Line's Big

So I asked Patrick R. Sheridan, president of the company which has its headquarters here, how extensive were Gray Line's operations. "We are more far-flung than any airline, hotel chain or auto rental firm in the world," he said. "We have 2,360 sales outlets, operate in 128 cities in the United States and abroad and carry more passengers—about 20 million a year—than the top three airlines combined."

He said the 62-year-old company employs about 10,000 persons, owns more than 8,500 motor coaches with a total value of almost $1 billion and offers 1,000 tours every day of the year.

But he added that while sightseeing is still the prime product, the company is involved in many other aspects of tourism: packaged tours, rail and air transfer service, rental cars, boat sightseeing, night club tours, foreign language interpretation services, limousine services and hotel accommodations.

Night life

Sheridan said Gray Line is the biggest operator of night club tours and casino excursions in Las Vegas and is planning to expand these after-dark tours in other cities.

He said the company has embarked on a new program of expansion internationally. Gray Line currently has 84 domestic companies and 34 foreign operations, he said. In the last two years it has doubled its growth overseas and is now aiming at a goal of about 150 cities.

Sheridan also said his company will try to hold the line on prices. He said a typical sightseeing tour with Gray Line costs about $6 — "a unique travel buy in these days of inflationary pressures."

"A Gray line tour is probably the most productive, lowest cost experience, any traveler can have," he said. "We give the tourist the actual feel of a city and at minimal cost."

Sheridan feels travel will become a major consumer form of pleasure in the years ahead. The four-day week, upscale economy, the new holiday weekend laws, and programs like visit USA and Discover USA will create a tremendous travel market, he said.

"Then, too, the world is getting smaller, lines of communications are broader, interests are being pooled more actively, economies are more integrated (the Common Market, for example)," he added. "All these factors suggest a true internationalization of the world with the end to many of the artificial barriers to the freedom to travel."

YOUR BIRTHDAY AND HOROSCOPE

By STELLA WILDER

SUNDAY, MAY 7 — Born today, you have the ability to put yourself in another's position so surely that you are by actual inward feeling entirely tolerant of and sympathetic toward other people and their difficulties, whether those difficulties are imposed upon them from the outside or are the result of shortcomings come by naturally. Your gift for seeing to the heart of a problem without having to become acquainted with every "if," "and" and "but" connected with it, makes solutions both easier and quicker to achieve.

Somewhat at a loss to know how best to use your tremendous reserves of energy, you are at times guilty of putting more effort and time into an endeavor than the endeavor needs, so that you actually over accomplish a project by gilding the lily, as it were. You need to learn to brake your creative impulses and to know precisely when a project has reached its natural conclusion and when more work upon it is needed.

Conscious of the picture you present to others, you are usually careful to put your best foot forward. You can be caught offguard, however, when you are indulging your special powers of concentration and giving your full attention to matters more important to you than you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, May 8

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Friends who have sufficient influence may not be available to you at this time. If you are wise, you'll settle for second best.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — An ideal day for the Gemini seriously considering a change in jobs. This is a good time to broadcast your good points where your work is concerned.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Increase your earning potential by taking on additional responsibilities on the employment scene. Realize your advantage to make real gains.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — A misunderstanding with one who works with or under you could be serious enough to cause a major setback. Counter the possibility by speaking up immediately.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Increase the value of your present.

Libra (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — You can afford to go out of your way to maintain harmony on the employment scene. On the home front, however, let another show the way to peace.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Include business associates when you invite friends to help you celebrate a victory. You can insure your next step up the ladder.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Do your best to keep younger family members from looking on ill advice as gospel. Make another's gift something special — for both of you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Be the peacemaker — and the peacemaker. This is no time to argue over who should go first in accepting a favor that comes to you and a partner.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Grasp an opportunity or two to get to know yourself better. Move cautiously — but with hesitation. The steady approach is best.

Country Club Ladies Day Golf News

I am going to take my opening statement of the last week back. I said, "Spring and golf have finally arrived." The only thing springy about last Wednesday was the springy steps everyone was taking to get the nine holes over and get in out of the cold, especially yours truly in her bermudas.

But all in all we had a very nice opening day. The style show was lovely and the models likewise. The brunch was delicious and it was so nice to see so many turn out.

First I want to remind you of the Special Event at 4 p.m. today. We will play the course backward. It's fun, try it.

Next Wednesday there will be a lowball-awosome. Try to pick a partner you haven't played with before or haven't played with in a long time and team up with two others and make a foursome. This will be both a nine and 18 hole event.

Be sure and keep your eye on the bulletin board for special notices. You must sign up for everything.

Pete Kuklinski will be holding golf clinics starting next Wednesday. They are as follows: May 10—Beginners—9 a.m., May 17—Intermediates—9 a.m., May 24—Advanced—9 a.m.

I want to tell those who are interested, or rather, those who are old enough that the Senior Women's Tournament will be held at the Sunset Hills Country Club at Edwardsville, Ill. The dates are Sept. 12, 13 and 14. Helen Little has entry blanks. Let's have a larger representation this year.

It has been suggested to me to include a rule of golf each week. The one that was chosen for this week is simple. On the seventh hole (the water hole), start out at the tee with an old ball so just in case you decide to go for the green you are ready. You CAN NOT change from your good ball to an old ball once the ball is in play.

Therefore, start with the old ball, then you won't be penalized. This also holds true on the 11th hole.

Now for the winners from Wednesday, May 3rd. There was a four way tie for low puts. Coming in with 16 putts apiece were: Betty Dawdy, Jean Rammelkamp, Ellen Gross and Betty Price.

There were two Chip-In's, Maxine Cumby and Helen Colvin. And to start out on the "Birdie Tree" we have Marion Doyle with a birdie on the fourth hole—Who will be the next Birdie to join Marion? The way to get one is to get out and play on Wednesday next.

See you there, Fran Chumley

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Jacksonville Library Reviews — New Books

by Harry Heusted

THE GODFATHER PAPERS, by Mario Puzo. The writer who scored with the novel "The Godfather" tells of his work on the script for the movie and speaks of his life as a tenement youth in New York's Neapolitan ghetto. The Italians who lived in the Hell's Kitchen district were not jolly singers but grim and insulting, fatigued by the lives of long labor they led and unsweetened by fanciful dreams. Steers often loped down the neighborhood streets after leaving a boxcar that sat in the yards near the place where delinquents robbed silk trucks of dresses and then sold the take door to door. Puzo's mother, who shopped with a black leather bag, felt that Mario's fate was to clerk for the railroad; his father, a trackman with nine mouths to feed, didn't ponder his sons' occupations. Both his mother and father were Southern Italians who came from a farm on the outskirts of Naples, where people neglected the poor.

After driving a jeep in World War II and exhausting the scenic potential of Europe, the embryo author came back to New York and accepted some jobs he despised. After writing two novels that made little money, he thought it was "time to grow up and sell out," so he started "The Godfather," working three years while his dubious relatives wondered.

Writing wholly from research—he never knew hoods—Puzo finished the novel and sold it to Hollywood, feeling that Brando was right for the lead but uncertain that he would be chosen. For 2½ percent of the profits and $500 per week for expenses, Puzo began to develop a script the director would thoroughly scissor. Puzo, insulted by Frank Sinatra, who felt that the singer described in the book was a highly unflattering twin of himself, didn't panic but took his ear-splitting abuse with a pinch of Italianate patience.

Gamblers and gambling are subjects of study at various points in his essays. Sally Rags makes a living by betting on sports but does not waste his talent at dice or at cards, since a pro doesn't follow that circuit. Having shilled in Nevada and clerked for a bookie, smart Sal loves a C-note the way an old graduate loves his fraternity tie. According to Puzo, the London casinos are really the best if your game is roulette, for the wheels give the player a break; if your pleasure is blackjack, Las Vegas is best with its excellent cadre of dealers; baccarat, which is a leisurely game, is best played in the clubs of the French Riviera where cards fall in holiday air.

Few Italian-Americans labor in crime, and they furnish few suicides, still fewer traitors, and seem of a tolerant nature. Puzo believes their tight family structure permitted their children to climb from the ghettos to master the middle-class life. He himself has a wife who respected his talent in years when it put little food on the table, and he kept the faith by not chasing or tipting when negative days were in view.

A GIRL NAMED SOONER, by Suzanne Clauser, a novel. Sooner Hawes got her name from the fact that her parents produced her too soon for the sake of propriety after their forcible marriage. Her life has been spent with an elderly woman whose use of the child in her bootlegging ventures has brought a degree of enslavement. Ten-year-old Sooner ob-serves the Depression with silent acceptance and Biblical taunts from the lips of her guardian dotard. Only songbirds and chipmunks and other wild creatures deliver relief to her drudging existence by letting her touch and befriend them.

One day when she aids a hurt animal neighbor, a sheriff and veterinarian see her and notice her skill as a nurse. McHenry, the fatherly veterinarian, takes Sooner home to his diffident wife, who is childless and angry at marriage. The woman, Elizabeth, noting that Sooner has not seen a toothbrush and fingers her nostrils, believes that her husband has brought home a mongrel unsuited for formal adoption. Mac has a hunch that his wife is mistaken and thinks Sooner's goodness will win her in time, reinforcing their teetering union.

Safe Driving Record

How would you like to have a deaf person as a chauffeur? Would you refuse to get into a taxi driven by a deaf person? Would it make you nervous to have your merchandise driven to a destination by a deaf truck driver?

What many people do not know is that the deaf have an excellent driving record and are doing all they can to maintain it.

A Denver, Colo., Judge, Sherman G. Finesilver, decided to undertake some research when he learned that insurance companies were unjustly charging deaf motorists high fees for protection.

Judge Finesilver's statistics surprised many people and over 80 insurance companies that refused to insure the deaf fifteen years ago now do so willingly and enthusiastically.

Some of the reasons for the excellent driving record of the deaf are:

1 — Drinking alcoholic beverages is not generally a problem among the deaf drivers. Neither is the drug intake. 2 — The deaf have good visual habits developed through the absence of the ability to hear. Ninety-eight per cent of the driving decisions and reactions are based on sight. Many times the deaf will see the flashing light of an emergency vehicle before a hearing companion can hear the siren.

3 — There is the full concentration on driving with the absence of radio and conversation distractions. 4 — Deaf drivers are generally conservative drivers and are not tempted to take chances. They consider driving a privilege and do not care to abuse it.

5 — Deaf drivers have a deep sense of communal responsibility in their driving, recognizing that their driving reflects on other deaf drivers.

6 — Vehicle care and maintenance is stressed among the deaf drivers. Defensive driving courses are being attended by the deaf throughout the country.

just completed a defensive driving course under the instruction of Henry Likes, ISD driving instructor. This National Safety Council course included films and discussion on driving situations.

Mr. Likes, who also instructs the ISD students in driver education, said he was pleased to offer the course, without compensation, primarily because of the intense interest and desire of the students to maintain the safe driving record.

Robert R. Anderson, practical arts department supervisor at ISD, himself deaf, said the demand for the driver education course is high and every student is given the opportunity to obtain the privilege of driving an automobile. Two years ago, two ISD staff members who are deaf received citations from the local high school committee for safe driving. The students who made the selection did not know the drivers were deaf but they observed perfect examples of courtesy and careful driving.

An application for a proposed project on file with the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission is under consideration by the state agency. The project includes a brief booklet scheduled for distribution to all law enforcement agencies for communication with deaf drivers or pedestrians and would handle basic communications. Most Jacksonville area police agencies have several members in each department who can communicate with deaf drivers. Some areas of the state have no officers trained in communication with the deaf.

Should the booklet become a reality, it would be compiled in cooperation with staff members at ISD, complete with training films for police departments throughout the state.

Jesus Christ Has A Phone Number

David Poling

By REV. DAVID POLING
The Jesus freaks have caused a lot of unusual things to happen in this decade: confrontations with organized religion, care and feeding of addicts, surfside baptisms and sidewalk conversions.

Some have shown a special skill at working with the establishment—if you call the telephone establishment. In Albuquerque, N.M., one cluster of the Jesus generation got the bright idea of putting Jesus Christ in the telephone directory. They operated a crash pad for young people in trouble and wanted a prominent name for their phone number.

Normally or usually, the directory people screen out the names and titles that they consider bizarre or "offensive." When this request came—for a listing of a telephone number of Jesus Christ—the answer was impossible, no. But one of the workers said that a hippie was living in the house, that his name was Jesus Christ, and since he was helping to pay the

When the information got around, the phone rang day and night. Not only people in New Mexico, but as far away as Alaska and Washington were dialing 505-265-0730. They often get John Leary (no one of the four living in the youth center answers "Jesus Christ") or one of his team who have discovered a major telephone ministry with people in trouble.

Leary was active in the Pentecostal movement of the Roman Catholic Church in New Mexico. He has advanced studies in theology but decided not to pursue the priesthood and ended up last year as an active member of the Jesus generation adjacent to the University of New Mexico. He is representative of the serious but not solemn group of Jesus people who go at Christian service 24 hours a day, combining praying, no hustling for cash or donations, no appeals for support. He said that people show up with a bag of groceries, and that gets them through another week.

They circulate within a fellowship of 50-60 local Christians, mostly young, who leave a $5 bill on the mantle and enough of those unexpected gifts keeps the lights on. And Jesus Christ in the phone book.

In the underground youth culture, the word has spread across the country that if you are in trouble or hung up on drugs, call Jesus Christ in Albuquerque. Leary's place has logged as many as 80 calls in a 24-hour period.

They don't ask for last names and they generally refer the individual to another priest or pastor or physician for follow-

When not waiting for the phone to ring and the numbing words of some teen-ager smashed on pills, they hop into their car and cruise the freeway for hitchhikers. Thousands of young people ride Route 66 and many of them are broke, hungry and coming off a bad trip. Those in dire need are picked up, given a sack at Leary's place, some food and counsel—and yes, conversion talk.

Leary's group moves easily with the other Jesus groups that flourish in the community. The Children of God, Inc., touch base now and then, but Leary's style and message does not appeal to their angry tone, so away they go, seeking other allies.

One thing is for sure, the Jesus generation has made Jesus Christ just a 10-cent call-

UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Read this before you light up. Maybe you'll change your mind.

For what it is claimed, smoking does to you, a woman, is enough to make any female "take the pledge" immediately. Numerous medical studies and the U.S. Surgeon General's reports on how smoking affects health of both sexes long since have been chronicled. Now, a new publication zeroes in specifically on its effects on women.

If you're in town. Others are certain that this group settled on one street for its name value alone: 3012 Marvel Avenue.

Effects Of Smoking On Women

Its two authors, drawing on scientific studies, say a woman who smokes is far more likely than her non-smoking counterpart to suffer from a host of disabling conditions, any of which can interfere with her ability to perform at home or on the job. And smoking during pregnancy affects two lives—the mother's and that of her unborn child.

Publication Compiled
Jane E. Brody, a science writer for The New York Times, and her husband Richard Engquist, free-lance writer and editor, have compiled the "Women and Smoking" publication for the Public Affairs Committee, a nonprofit educational organization founded in 1935 and headquartered in New York.

Today, 30.5 per cent of the nation's adult women smoke. This means that nearly 20 million, age 21 and over, smoke regularly. Today in every age group above 25, the percentage of women smokers is higher than it was 15 years ago.

One-third of all women in the childbearing years (15 to 44) are smokers and here is where the risk to the infant (as well as mother) comes in. Principal risks discussed by Brody and Engquist include lower than normal birthweight, stillbirth, miscarriage and impairment of the infant's heart rate and blood pressure.

"Nor does the damage cease at birth," they say. Studies show that babies of smoking mothers have a much higher incidence of heart damage, cancer and convulsions. They cite a British survey of 17,000 births indicating further that a mother's smoking will very likely have an inhibiting effect on the child's later social development.

Other Points
Other points they make against women and smoking include:

—One American Cancer Society study of death causes of a little over one million men and women ages 35 to 84 showed that women between the ages of 45 and 65 who smoke are twice as likely as non-smokers to die of a stroke or heart disease.

Women smokers also were found to run a greater risk of dying at a young age from lung cancer, emphysema and bronchitis, cirrhosis, aortic aneurysm ("blowout" in the body's main artery), and cancer of mouth, pharynx, larynx or esophagus.

—The incidence of lung cancer among women has been rising faster than that of any other cancer.

Jagging Morale

By TOM TIEDE

BIEN HOA, Vietnam (NEA)—When James Hamlet, enlisted in the service as a Negro private in 1942, there were two United States armies, one black and one white.

Times have changed. Today Hamlet is a brigadier general. There is only one color in his Army—"olive drab."

Hamlet is commanding officer of the Third Brigade, First Air Cavalry, one of two U.S. combat infantry outfits remaining in Vietnam. And though the unit's problems are not the same as in the early days of World War II (they are, to some extent, the reverse) the black brigadier is faced, day to day, with some of the most frustrating and forbidding rank-and-file woes in American combat history.

Hamlet gets nervous when talking about morale; he evades the point by boasting about

Gen. James Hamlet

Keeping the leftovers alive

"great kids" and admits only to his aim. He's starchy, maybe "some problems with complacency."

But the facts in the field are clear.

At just one of his firebases, an underground fortress called Bunker Hill, the air hints of marijuana and the troops (some) talk of mutiny. Guards go to sleep. The man on the 105 gun has had too many beers. Patrols complain about shooting at each other. Officers complain about having "to treat these people (the GIs) with kid gloves."

A mimeographed underground newspaper is passed around, with a homosexual joke circled. The men brag of signing a petition which protests the court-martial of one of their number. And at least one trooper, Pfc. Don Albright of Milwaukee, is candidly worried about his chances of surviving in this atmosphere: "I swear to God we don't know what we're doing. If Charley (the Viet Cong) ever hit us hard, we'd all be wiped out."

The situation is not nice. Yet in fairness it may not be as nasty as it sounds in print. Soldiers regularly exaggerate to newsmen. "Our efficiency," in-unit officers, "is right up there."

But if efficiency is high, it is in spite of morale rather than because of it. And is in least part due to the former World War II private, 51-year-old James ("Nobody ever calls him Jim") Hamlet.

A three-tour veteran of Southeast Asia, Hamlet admits some of the modern-day troop troubles are heard to believe. "When I was here in 1966 we didn't have any narcotics problem. I mean none!" Now heroin is sold in the village marketplace alongside the bananas and oranges. Some troops take it expressly to buy an administrative discharge home. Black-white flack flourishes. GIs periodically refuse to fight. Some officers get threat notices. The list goes on.

Hamlet took over Third Brigade leadership five months ago. And, say some officers, "if you think it's bad now, you should have seen it then." Hamlet made the best of a mess. "The busier they are," he theorized, "the better off they are." So. Work. On duty and off duty, idleness was cut to the bone. Beards shaved. Clothes cleaned. Guns began firing more. The "search and evade" tactic of some grunt patrols was quashed. The Bien Hoa base camp became a sating post again. At least one man was fined $400 for sleeping at his desk.

There are some here who feel Hamlet has overreacted. He is a stiff-jointed sort—black enlisted men call him "General Tom"—and the high and low on his staff say they would not be surprised to see him on a horse with his hand in his tunic. His close lieutenants tremble at his quiet insistence. Participants complain that his daily briefings, conducted with a cavalry sword, are near comical in their rigidity ("Sir! The battle casualties for today were..."). And, of course, the enlisted men grumble about "all this work, work, work crap."

For his part, Hamlet doesn't discuss the complaints. Neither does he discuss race, family (except to say "I have a lovely wife") or past (he's the son of an Ohio laborer, raised in New York, schooled in a Southern college). He's a courteous man. But entirely private. Yet there can be no doubt,

PEO SISTERHOOD STUDIES PROJECTS AT BURRUS HOME

ROODHOUSE — Mrs. Wm. M. Gilmore was hostess May 2 to the PEO Sisterhood with 19 members present. President Mrs. Roy Burrus conducted the business meeting.

The theme of the session was The Halls of Ivy and the program included PEO projects. Mrs. N. J. Bucklin and Mrs. Henry Van Tuyle presented an interesting program on the educational loan fund. It was the first project adopted by the Sisterhood in 1907 and is a revolving loan fund which has provided more than $8,000,000 in loans to over 18,000 women seeking financial aid in attaining education beyond high school.

Recipients of loans are women in the U.S. and Canada who are sponsored by the PEO chapter. Recipients are not necessarily PEO members. Chapter BU has sponsored several Roodhouse girls by this loan.

Mrs. D. A. Mansfield and Mrs. George Wollermann told about Cottey College located at Nevada, Mo., founded in 1884, which has been owned and supported by PEO since 1927. It is a fully accredited liberal arts two-year college for women.

The next meeting will be held May 16 at the home of Mrs. Dale Gibbins.

Kangaroos are fast animals. When trying to escape an enemy, they can hop off at 35 miles an hour, covering ground in 20-foot bounds.

It will be necessary for those going to leave Roodhouse no later than 1:30 p.m.

BREAKS ANKLE IN ROODHOUSE FALL

ROODHOUSE — Mrs. Vincent Reager of Roodhouse has returned from White Hall hospital after treatment of injuries received in a fall at the Roodhouse National Bank last Wednesday morning.

X-rays at the hospital revealed a broken bone in her right ankle. She will recuperate at home until time when a walking cast can be placed on the injured ankle.

Mrs. Floyd Martin has returned from a long weekend in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Neely, and daughter, Kathy, Oak Grove, Mo. ## Pioneer 10's Mission

By IRA BERKOW
NEW YORK (NEA)—On Dec. 3, a spacecraft with an implausible mission will slingshot off Jupiter and begin what might be a never-ending trip through space.

Pioneer 10 will carom off Jupiter at 9:25 a.m. EST, according to Cape Kennedy headquarters. When in another 50 years the spacecraft leaves our solar system, it will be the first manmade object to do so. That's all we know for sure.

Scientists, with all their immense technology, must sit with fingers crossed for the next 50,000 years at least before they know whether Pioneer 10 is a success. The spacecraft bears a message which will inform any intelligent life—if any exists in some distant solar system—that we are here. Are you there?

Perhaps we will never hear from Pioneer 10 again. But I will never forget it.

On the evening of Thursday, March 4, I happened upon a quiet crowd along the ocean at Vero Beach, Fla. I felt a sudden awful chill of dread in my spine. I had once seen just such a crowd when a body washed ashore.

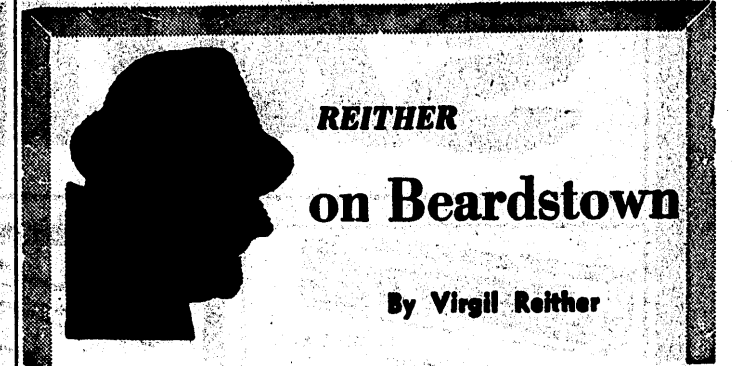

I now came closer. Lights from the beachfront Holiday Inn and the Ocean Grill Restaurant created eerie shadows of the people standing on the white sand.

Other men and women sat in automobiles, while more stood on the little weathered boardwalk. The night was clear and warm. All the stars were out. The sequined waves slithered in and burst with a foamy hiss on the beach. There must have been a storm at sea, because every few minutes a clap of thunder was heard in the distance and jagged lightning lit up maroon clouds.

"What's going on?" I asked.

"Pioneer 10," said an elderly lady on the boardwalk. "The satellite. It's supposed to go off in 10 minutes. At 8:25. We can see it from here. Didn't you read about it in the papers?"

The satellite was to be shot from Cape Kennedy, some 60 miles up from Vero Beach. Pioneer 10 would carry a message in the form of a gold-coated aluminum plate. The message

REITHER on Beardstown

By Virgil Reither

BEARDSTOWN — That illusive and highly temperamental delicacy called the mushroom isn't gracing as many dining room tables as might be expected at this time of year.

The weather isn't cooperating much, which is the big reason for scarcity of the toadstool-like plant.

There has been plenty of moisture, but the need is a day or so of hot sunshine to make the mushrooms pop out in the gulleys, timbers and pastures of this area.

This isn't to announce that none are growing and that nobody is finding them.

Mushroom headquarters in Beardstown for years has been Leo and Bud's tavern at 4th and Bay street. In season in past years more mushrooms have been sold there than in most places, but the supply is low there, too; at least lower than on many occasions.

However there is a unanimous hope that things will soon be better, and that means mushrooms on the dining room table.

Having scored a triumphant success in presenting the stage play, Oklahoma, at the high school last week, the cast and crew won additional praise a few nights later — this time in deportment.

"They didn't even break a coke bottle," said Glenn Herzberger after he and his wife entertained the 70 youngsters at their country home in Bluff Springs.

The new home, atop a hill just outside the hamlet of Bluff Springs on route 125, was bright and lively for the occasion as John Herzberger and fellow members of the cast and crew handled all the preparations for entertainment and refreshments.

The play, by the drama and choral groups of the high school was history as the co-directors Mary Gist and Barbara Braner concentrated their

PITTSFIELD — There are now 11 high schools in the Pike County conference, one of the oldest in Illinois, organized in the mid-1920's. Payson and Liberty High Schools, the newest members, were accepted into the PCC at a recent dinner meeting in Hardin. Payson and Liberty were both members of the Wenio conference as were Barry and West Pike High schools.

The Pike conference now has members in Calhoun, Adams and Pike counties. Other high schools included are: Griggsville, Perry, East Pike at Milton, Pleasant Hill, Brussels, Calhoun county and Pittsfield.

The Conference sponsors such activities as fall baseball, variety basketball, an annual choral festival, a band festival, a speech festival and a careers night.

All high schools participate in the activities except Pittsfield, Calhoun county and Pleasant Hill who do not have a fall baseball program. Pittsfield also does not participate in variety basketball.

Pittsfield High School Principal Don Mellon has served as president of PCC since 1967.

Today, by visiting the tomb of Mount Irazu, a few miles north of Balboa's lookout in Costa Rica, one may view two oceans at once — the Atlantic and the Pacific. The only other place to accomplish this global adventure is traveling to the southern tip of South America at Cape Horn and try to guess just where the Atlantic ends and the Pacific begins.

One may also view the beauty of his own sparkling clean, fresh home after the installation of a water refiner. All the guesswork is gone from the mechanical water refining appliance because it has been totally engineered, tested, professionally installed and guaranteed in writing to give you the most trouble-free refiner for sparkling, clear, clean and refreshing water from every tap in your home. ### By BUFORD GREEN Sports Editor SANTORINI EYES RETURN OF FANS

Al Santorini feels pretty much the same way about the recent Major League baseball strike as do the other players around both leagues: he calls it unfortunate and wants to forget it ever happened.

Santorini, a jovial, free-talking relief pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, agrees, however, that the bad feeling created by the strike isn't likely to be forgotten right away.

Interviewed prior to a game in St. Louis this week, Santorini was asked about fan reaction in the league cities the Cardinals had visited to date.

"In Philadelphia they had a big parade and some other special events that day and I didn't notice much booing by the fans while we were there," recalled Santorini. "And, when the fans don't boo in Philadelphia, that's something. When we got to Houston they were on a winning streak, they had big crowds and the fans were cheering for their players. You heard some booing, but not an unusual amount."

"HERE IN ST. LOUIS we got some boos the first two games and you could hear some of the comments from the stands, criticizing the players for the strike, but it hasn't been as bad since we came home. I think it will die down quickly. The hard core fans that are here every night still like baseball and they just want to see good baseball. If they (the hard core fans) continue to boo and stay away, then we have a lot to worry about."

How do the players feel about the strike now?

"I think the players were misrepresented by the press considerably. We had to do what we thought was right, knowing that there would be some bad reaction. Now, though, we want to forget about that and play baseball. Ideally, the strike is over and forgotten, but there are some front office people who won't let it die. Of course I can't say who, and I really don't want to say a lot about it for print. Some people seem to want to keep the flames fanned, which will hurt everyone."

GETTING BACK to the payoff of baseball on the field, Santorini feels he has settled into the groove of relief pitching and visions a good season for himself and the Cardinals.

Acquired from San Diego for Leron Lee last July 11, Santorini was tabbed as a candidate for the fifth starting position in spring training. With the Redbirds' bullpen undergoing a major reshuffling, Santorini has moved into the top fireman's role. The 6-0, 195 pounder who will be 24 May 19, was 2-1 with no runs allowed in seven innings worked through Wednesday doesn't see any big need for physical or mental changes when moving from a starting or relief role.

"I DON'T BUY that business of having to think differently when you come in cold to relieve," Santorini offered. "I can get psyched up either way. You should be able to get psyched up just being in a game, no matter when. As for the physical part of it, I don't think you have to prepare any differently if you are used in a normal manner. Red (Schoendienst) is good about giving his relief pitchers regular work. I feel like I can go an inning or two every day or every other day without hurting my arm."

Switching the conversation back to the effects of the strike, Santorini closed out a pleasant half-hour by offering, "You know, the best thing that could happen to make everyone forget and get the unpleasant taste out of their mouth would be to have a good season. I believe if we have a good year, and if there is a good race throughout the divisions, the good baseball fans will forget and settle back to enjoy baseball. I hope we can give the fans a good year."

Turcotte: Riva Ridge Just Does His Job

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "Riva Ridge isn't impressive; he just does his job," jockey Ron Turcotte said after the colt did the job in Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

"He'll never be impressive," said Turcotte after Riva Ridge whipped 15 other 3-year-olds in America's most famous horse race. "He just does what he has to do."

"I've had many big thrills in racing," said Turcotte, the oldest of three riding brothers from Canada, "but this probably was the biggest thrill."

"I really intended to lay back about third," said Turcotte after Riva Ridge led for the whole 1 1/4 miles. "But while I was in the lead I knew I was all right. They would have to cover my ground to catch me. He had a little bit at the end. I really felt like he had it."

"He did everything I asked him to," said Phil Rubbico, who finished second on stretch.

SIU WINS TENNIS CLASSIC
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Southern Illinois won the Tennessee Tennis Classic Saturday by piling up 20 points. Mississippi State had 16, Tennessee 15 and Memphis State 5.

Southern Illinois beat Memphis State 8-0, Mississippi State 6-4 and Tennessee 6-5.

running No Le Haze, 3 1/4 lengths back. "There just was't any speed in the race. In the Preakness it might be different. There might be speed there."

"Riva Ridge was just too much," said Carlos Marquez, who rode third-place Hold Your Peace. "I made two or three moves at Riva Ridge, trying to get to him. He was just loafing on the lead. But everytime I'd get close that jock (Turcotte) would let out a notch."

"We tried 'em. I thought we could win it, but Riva Ridge is a good horse. I believe that now."

"The winner was too strong," said John Rotz, the jockey of fifth-place Sensitive Music.

"We had no problems other than Riva Ridge. He was too much," was the opinion of Mike Hole, who was aboard Head of the River, who came in 10th.

Riva Ridge finally brought Derby glory to Meadow Stable, which had tried twice before and narrowly missed in 1980 when Hill Prince finished a close second to Middleground.

In 1982 Meadow Stable's favored Sir Gaylord fractured a leg the day before the Derby.

"It's been great fun," said Mrs. John Tweedy, who operates Meadow Stable for the Chenery family. "It's been a wonderful day. Nothing compares."

Horton's Single Sparks Detroit Over Rangers 4-1

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Timmerman and Fred Scherman tamed Texas on four hits while Willie Horton highlighted a three-run first inning with a two-run single that led the Tigers to a 4-1 victory over the Rangers Saturday.

It was the fourth impressive start this season for Timmerman, 2-2.

The only Texas hits off him were singles by Ted Ford and Rich Hand, 0-1, in the second and third innings until Hal King slammed a solo homer off him in the seventh.

That prompted Tiger Manager Billy Martin to bring in Scherman.

A single by Aurelio Rodriguez and walks to Bill Freehan and Norm Cash loaded the bases for Detroit in the opening inning before Horton cracked a two-run single. Dick McAuliffe followed with a single to score Freehan.

Fanzone, Hickman Power Chicago 6-4

CHICAGO (AP) — Carmen Fanzone, subbing for the injured Ron Santo, racked a pair of tape-measure home runs and Jim Hickman added another Saturday to power the Chicago Cubs to a 6-4 victory over the Houston Astros.

A superb job of relief pitching by Juan Pizarro, however, was needed as the Cubs posted their first victory over Houston after four losses.

Filling in for Santo, who suffered a fractured wrist Friday, Fanzone crashed a 450-foot homer to lead off the second. Hickman had smashed a two-run homer in the first to give Chicago a 2-1 lead.

After Hickman singled and Jose Cardenal walked with two out in the third, Fanzone hit his second homer over the left field bleacher wall.

Cub starter Bill Hands, however, could not hold the five-run lead and was knocked out in the fourth when the Astros scored three runs on singles by Bob Watson, Doug Rader, John Edwards, Roger Metzger and Cesar Cedeno. Pizarro came in and ended the inning by getting Jim Wynn to fly out.

Pizarro, getting his first victory, retired eight in a row before Cedeno singled with one out in the seventh. Wynn then walked but Lee May hit into an inning-ending double play.

Devlin 2 Strokes Ahead At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Australian Bruce Devlin came from five strokes off the pace with a 67 and opened up a two-shot lead Saturday in the third round of the $125,000 Houston Open Golf Tournament.

Devlin, 34, an erstwhile master plumber in Armidale, Australia, had a 54-hole total of 206-10 under par on the 6,998-yard Westwood Country Club course.

Hale Irwin, the second-round leader who held a five-stroke margin over Devlin starting play on this drizzly, overcast day, slipped to a 74 and was alone in second at the 208.

Veteran Doug Sanders, rookie Chuck Thorpe and Jack Ewing followed at 209.

The dapper Sanders had a 70; Ewing closed up with a 69, and Thorpe, one of the few black players on the tour, matched par-72.

Roy Pace, who holed a one-iron shot for a rare double eagle on the 556-yard 13th hole, headed a group of four at 211.

Pace had a 70 and was tied with Tom Aaron, Mike Reasor and John Lister of New Zealand.

A relatively small gallery showed up to watch the proceedings in this event that is being shunned by Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and South African Gary Player.

"I'm a bit disappointed I didn't finish a bit stronger," said Devlin, who had it 11 under par until he bogeyed the 15th hole from a bunker.

Devlin, an 11-year tour veteran who has scored seven victories, has cut down on his schedule in recent years because of a golf course architecture business in Florida.

Turcotte Rides Top Pick To Wide Spread

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Riva Ridge, an aspirant to racing's Triple Crown, easily took the first leg Saturday when he won the 98th Kentucky Derby in a wire-to-wire victory.

With rider Ron Turcotte merely flicking his whip at the son of First Landing in the stretch drive, he pulled away from No Le Haze and won with daylight to spare.

No Le Haze had moved up quickly at the end, but not quickly enough as Riva Ridge, last year's 2-year-old champion, was outdistancing the field.

Hold Your Peace, who had challenged Riva Ridge for the first mile of the 1 1/4-mile Derby, finished third with Introductory fourth.

The victory for the Chenery Family's Meadow Stable was worth $140,800, second richest in the history of America's most famous horse race. Riva Ridge's time was 2:01.4.

Turcotte sent Riva Ridge to the front in the first jump from the gate and had nearly a length lead going past the stands for the first time.

But Carlos Marquez moved Hold Your Peace, flying the colors of Mrs. Maribel Blum, into contention after the first three furlongs and the two were several lengths ahead of the rest of the 16-horse field in a head and head battle through the backstretch.

At the quarter pole, Turcotte turned his horse loose, and Hold Your Peace began to fade as Phil Rubbico moved quickly with No Le Haze to take the place money.

The 1 1/4 miles time of 2:01.4-5 was a second and one fifth slower than the record held by Northern Dancer.

The victory was Riva Ridge's third this season and, as the favorite of the largest crowd in Kentucky Derby history, he returned $5, $3.80 and $3, while No Le Haze's tickets were worth $4.40 and $3.40 and Hold Your Peace paid $3.60.

Rubbico said he moved through horses "at the head of the stretch. I had so much horse left I thought we were going to win."

But Marquez, aboard Hold Your Peace, said Riva Ridge "was just too much."

"I was where I wanted to be on the backstretch," Marquez said, "but I just didn't have enough horse."

Riva Ridge, winner of five straight stakes at the end of his juvenile season, dominated his class, prompting trainer Lucien Laurin to race him lightly earlier this year.

He made it plain that he was seeking not only the great prize here, but the Preakness and Belmont as well and wanted to have a fresh colt to do it.

Riva Ridge made it quite clear that he was the best among those in the Derby, and most of his stiffest competition in the other classics will come from his own stable.

Gov. Wendell Ford, who presented the trophy to Mrs. John Tweedy, who manages Meadow Stable for the Chenery family, agreed with Laurin.

"We believe this is the first star in what will later add the other two stars in the Triple Crown of racing," he said.

Riva Ridge held a 3/4-length lead over No Le Haze at the wire while Hold Your Peace was another 3/4 lengths back in third and Introductory was 3 1/2 lengths behind in fourth.

Turcotte said his lead in the early part of the race really wasn't intended.

"I really intended to lay back about third," he said, smiling as he jumped from the winner's back.

"But, while I was in the lead, I knew I was all right. They would have to cover my ground to catch me," he added.

Rubbico, with his late charging winner of the Louisiana and Arkansas Derbies, said there just wasn't enough speed in the early part of the race for his colt to come on at the last.

"Maybe in the Preakness there will be more," he added.

Then, in order, came Head of the River, Big Brown Bear, Kentuckian, Hassi's Image, Majestic Needle, Our Trade Winds, Napoise, Dr. Neale and Pacallo.

From the 1 1/4-mile pole to the head of the stretch, it was all Riva Ridge and Hold Your Peace and, down the lane where dreams are won or lost, No Le Haze got into the act.

Laurin said about Riva Ridge, "If he looks all right, we'll ship him directly to Baltimore Monday morning."

The Preakness is to be run at Pimlico May 20.

The victory for Riva Ridge made him the 12th horse in the past 50 years and the first since Kauai King to lead at all the

Seaver And Mets Fall 6-4 To SD

NEW YORK (AP) — San Diego's Nate Colbert continued to torment New York pitchers Saturday, pounding a previously unbeaten Tom Seaver for a two-run double and two-run homer as the Padres whipped the Mets 6-2.

Seaver, 4-1, was seeking his 100th career victory and breezed into the sixth inning with a 2-0 lead on Ed Kranepool's second-inning homer off rookie Bill Grief.

But Enzo Hernandez reached on an error by third baseman Jim Fregosi, Leron Lee singled for the second of his three hits and Colbert drove both runners home with a long double.

The Padres jolted Seaver for four runs in the eighth, with Hernandez again starting the uprising, this time with a one-out single.

He scored the tiebreaking run on Lee's double and Colbert then walloped his sixth home run of the season.

The final run crossed on singles by Larry Stahl and Ollie Brown and another error by Fregosi.

It was the first time the Padres had ever beaten Seaver after 10 defeats. Grief, 2-3, was relieved by Mike Caldwell in the eighth after developing a blister on his pitching hand.

Geinan Paces Porta Jr. Hi. At Sectional

HAVANA — Mike Geinan of Porta junior high was a triple winner as Porta won the team championship of the Havana track sectional Saturday afternoon.

Geinan won the 50 yd. and 100 yd. dashes with respective times of :6.1 and :11.55, and added the championship of the high jump as he cleared the bar at five feet even for the three wins.

Brad Denton won the low hurdles in :15.6, while the 440 relay team of Geinan, Denton, Tracy Anderson and Pat Co glazier took first in a time of :50.1.

The winners from Havana now advance to the state meet at Pekin this Saturday.

DODGERS, EXPOS RAINED OUT
MONTREAL (AP) — A day night's game between Los Angeles Dodgers and Montreal Expos was rained out and rescheduled for Monday night.

AT THE PLATE: Jim Hynes, No. 1, crosses the plate and is greeted by happy teammates after blasting a solo homer in the Routt-Winchester district game Saturday afternoon. Hynes led the Rockets with a double and homer. Winchester took advantage of Routt errors to score an 8-6 victory.

Blueboys Down Olivet Twice

good defensive ball and getting the run scoring hit when it needed it, Illinois College went into extra innings for a 9-6 victory over Olivet Nazarene in the first game and turned around for a 4-0 shutout in the second contest to sweep a Prairie College Conference doubleheader Saturday afternoon.

The double win now puts IC at 4-7 overall and puts the Blueboys in first place in the PCC battle with a 4-1 record. The Blueboys could capture the crown if they win the showdown battle against Greenville College on Tuesday.

In the first game that saw the lead change hands four times before the seventh inning, the Blueboys scored one in the seventh to put the game into extra innings and pushed three across in the top of the ninth for the win.

With one out in the seventh, Don Petefish walked and scored on Rich Orr's double to right, the only extra base hit of the game, to knot the score at 6-6.

The three winning runs came in the ninth when Don Petefish walked, John Wardwell sacrificed him to second, and Orr walked. Ken Beldon singled, driving in two runs, and scored moments later on singles by Ron Petefish and Larry Lascoody.

IC scored three runs in the top of the first in the second contest and then held on. Don Petefish led off with a walk, Wardwell bunted safely down the third base line. Both runners scored as Beldon again came through with a single, and he scored on Lascoody's single to deep right.

Steers, now 1-1, was the winner of the first game, while Schillerstrom, who started the opener and now has a 3-1 mark, was the winner of the nightcap.

Greenville won the meet with a 76 team total, followed by Eureka with 61, Iowa Wesleyan 48, Illinois College 38, Olivet Nazarene 38½ and Blackburn 12½.

Summers set a new conference mark of 48'10" in winning the shot put competition, while Jack Messmore, going 13'9" in the pole vault, established a new conference and Illinois College record, as well as setting his own best effort.

Bruce Beal also gathered a first for IC as he threw the javelin 175'6". He also took third in the shot put at 40'7½". Dave DeShazier finished second in the shot put with a heave of 45'9" and second in the discus with a mark of 133'8". Summers finished third in the discus on a toss of 133'3".

Mike Browning went 41'¼" in the triple jump for second place, while the mile relay team of Charles Carruthers, Ken Kieck, Darryl Mayhew and Randy Siville finished third. The 440 relay team of Browning, Tom Edwards, DeShazier and Roger Baker finished fifth, while Siville took fifth in the 880 and mile events.

Badgers Outlast Illinois, 7-5

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin held off Illinois rallies Saturday to win a 7-5 Big Ten baseball game before rain washed out the nightcap of a doubleheader.

Showers held the initial game to six innings. The Badgers took a 5-1 lead with the help of a four-run second inning. But the Illini replied with two runs in the third and two in the fourth to tie the game.

Two walks, two hits and a sacrifice fly in the fifth for Wisconsin gave Andy Otting his fifth victory against one loss. The Badgers are 5-4 in the loop, 13-17 over-all.

Olderman

NEA Executive Editor

BERKELEY, Calif. (NEA) — He has just come back at 7 o'clock this morning from Fresno after a long spring practice session on the soggy turf of California Memorial Stadium yesterday afternoon. Now he's back in the shadows of the Berkeley hills this afternoon for more intensive drilling of the 86 players in motley football uniforms.

Because these are the busy days for Mike White, a new head coach in college football. Recruiting (as he was doing in Fresno). Organizing. Instructing. And at the same time learning.

Mike White, at 36, looks like he should be the freshman coach. Firm-jawed, snub-nosed, clear-eyed, and as trim as he was when he played varsity football at this same school 15 years ago. He is now the head football coach at the University of California, whose tradition in the sport goes all the way back to 1888.

"I really think," he says, "that California is ripe for football success."

It has been different at California, which has had the Wonder Teams and the Thunder Teams, since 1904, when the Free Speech Movement was born at Berkeley and signaled the era of dissent in today's universities. California hasn't been to the Rose Bowl since 1959.

"The old attitudes," continues Mike earnestly, "are gone. I think the students of today really want to identify with success. I have seen what football success did at Stanford."

Mike was the chief assistant these last eight years to John Ralston at Stanford, down the road on the other side of San Francisco Bay, and when Ralston resigned to go to the pros, Mike could have stepped up to the top job. He opted for Cal instead.

"It shows you how important success is," he says. "I came to California because I had a loyalty here, where I went to school. As for Stanford, it's a tough assignment to follow a winner. It's tough to inherit a job. You have to change yourself to deal with the same people you've been associating with as a buddy."

"Here I can be my own man."

Which means it's strictly his own show. For spring practice, which is his showcase to indoctrinate the players with his football philosophy, Mike brought back Joe Kapp, the unemployed quarterback with whom he played at California. Joe brings a verve to the practice field.

"Run it out," he yells to hold-over quarterback Jay Cruze in a backfield signal drill, after a handoff has been muffed and the college kid pulled up. "The play doesn't end there!"

Handling almost 100 players is a meshed process, with a covey of assistants to work with individual groups in different sectors of the field. It's as sophisticated as an assembly line. Mike is the straw boss, who in sweat togs with no identifying badge, wanders from bunch to bunch to check on the progress of the kids, to get a line on their agility and acuity.

"Here," he muses, "you're dealing with smarter kids. I wanted to coach at an academically oriented school. Last year I know that Berkeley recruited seven or eight guys away from Stanford. You can still involve the student body (California has some 28,000 scholars) in your program. You don't have to put the football player aside as an animal."

This time of year, spring practice also attracts the pros, scouts scouring the country to acquire a line on next fall's seniors. "This is not a big league squad," whispers Ken Meyers of the New York Jets, who has recently visited such body parlors as Nebraska and Oklahoma.

But right now, five months from opening with Colorado, in the debut of his new career, Mike White isn't really concerned with the production of future pros. He wants to make sure the kids, who delay practice every day until 3:30 because their class commitments come first, understand his attitudes toward football at a university.

"We go along with the times," he says. "The players aren't going to run me, but what you can't afford to do is impose discipline on an entire squad with different ethnic attitudes. Most of my discipline will come from within the squad, through group leaders."

"Football players are students. They're no longer 24-hour-a-day football players. I don't ask a kid to sleep, eat, drink football."

No, he only asks himself to do that. Tonight, he's off to preach the gospel of California football at Chico — before practice again tomorrow.

Back In Davis Cup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Romania, which unsuccessfully challenged the United States for Davis Cup tennis supremacy last year, took the first step on the long road back to another meeting Saturday by clinching a first-round European Zone victory over Switzerland.

The Romanians wrapped up their victory over the Swiss at Bucharest when Ilie Nastase and Ion Tiriac, who won Friday's singles matches, combined for a 6-0, 6-4, 6-1 doubles victory over Matthias Weren and Fredy Blatter.

That gave Romania an insurmountable 3-0 lead in the best-of-five series.

At Sofia, Bulgaria, Spain took a 3-0 lead when Juan Gisbert and Andres Gimeno defeated Bulgaria's twin brothers, Matei and Bozhidar Pampoulov, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5.

West Germany eliminated Greece 3-0 at Athens as its doubles team of Joergen Fassbender and Hans Pohmann trounced Nicholas Kalogeropoulos and Pericles Gavrielides 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

At Reggio Calabria, Italy, Nicola Pietrangeli and Adriano Panatta gave the Italians a 3-0 lead over Austria after a 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 doubles victory over Ernest Blanke and R. Hockowetz.

Ireland built its lead to 3-0 over Turkey at Dublin when Michael Hickey and Len Browne overwhelmed Bulent Alpinkaya and Tashin Gursay 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

Fred Hemmes and Van Horst gave the Netherlands a 3-0 lead over Norway at Scheveningen, Netherlands, by winning the doubles over Finn Dag Jagge and Jon Erik Ross 6-1, 6-3, 6-3.

England, trailing 2-0 after the singles, remained alive in its battle with France when David Lloyd and John Paise defeated Pierre Barthes and Georges Goven 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3 in doubles at Paris.

At Baastad, Sweden, New Zealand remained in contention when Onny Parun and Jeff Simpson defeated Sweden's Bjorn Borg and Ove Bengtsson 8-6, 6-3, 9-7 in doubles. Sweden leads 2-1.

Elsewhere, after the first two days' action, Denmark led Finland 2-1, Poland led Yugoslavia 2-1 and Belgium and Czechoslovakia were tied 1-1.

Augustana Nabs 3 Loop Titles In CCIW Meet

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Augustana College boasted three titles Saturday after staging a sweep of the two-day College Conference of Illinois-Wisconsin track and field, tennis and golf championships hosted here by Millikin University.

Augustana rolled up 85½ points in the track and field competition on three individual firsts, including two CCIW records, and also took top honors in the mile relay. Defending champion North Central was runnerup with 62½ followed by Carthage with 59½.

Augustana, which trailed North Central by six points after the first round of golf Friday, rallied Saturday with three players shooting 78 to three players by one stroke, 612 to 613. North Central finished third at 615 and defending champion Carroll was fourth at 624.

In tennis, three singles victories Saturday gave Augustana 13½ points, enough to beat out Carroll, 10½, and third place finisher Millikin with 8. It was the seventh consecutive CCIW tennis title for Augustana.

Augustana's Tony Cornelious set a CCIW record in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles with a timing of :53.5, eclipsing the old mark of :55.1. Teammate Phil Hess leaped 46 feet 9½ inches in the triple jump to break the old mark of 46 feet, ¾ inches. Other top finishers for Augustana included Pete Holmer, who ran the quarter mile :49.7 and the mile relay team which was timed in 3:22.

In golf, North Central's Jay Keen was medalist firing a 75-72 for a two-day total of 147. Ted Stone of Augustana finished with 148 in a four-way tie for second, after firing a 76 in the second round. Defending champion Craig Arend of Elmhurst was third at 149.

Augustana snared the tennis crown when netman Wayne Muskievicz dumped Paul Price of Wheaton, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3; Bill Allee downed Bill Wells of Millikin, 6-2 and 6-4; and Mike Muskievicz triumphed 6-3, 6-2 over Jim Wunderlich of Carroll.

Hundley Becoming Little Impatient

CHICAGO (AP) — "I've become a little impatient with myself and maybe others, too." So drawled catcher Randy Hundley of the Chicago Cubs as he went through the daily pre-game training room ritual of having his right knee taped as heavily as any gimpy football player.

That knee, mending from surgery on a badly torn ligament, may hold the key to a solid Cub pennant shot in the National League East.

Thus far, one-time Iron Man Hundley's comeback from almost two full seasons of inactivity from surgery on both knees has been more than encouraging to Virginia Randy and Manager Leo Durocher.

In his first 14 games, Hundley batted almost .300 with 14 hits in 47 at bats and eight RBIs. More important, he was working with his old skill behind the plate and fulfilling Durocher's contention that "Randy is my quarterback on that field — we've got to be 10 per cent better with him playing."

Why, then, was Randy impatient?

"I guess it's because I have been awfully keyed up to be back playing, but I still have to be conscious that I must not hurry my process of trying to get things back," said the 30-year-old Hundley, who was a National League All-Star catcher in 1969, his last healthy season.

What also caused impatience with "others" for the man who set three major league records and tied another in the catching department after he became an instant Cub star in 1967?

"I'll explain it this way. We all take good health for granted and it took the physical troubles I've had to make me appreciate what a sound body means, especially to an athlete."

"So when I feel any team-mate, being in tip top shape, isn't putting out the way he should, it makes me burn."

That's quite understandable in the case of Hundley, who in 1966 set a National League record for games caught by a rookie — 149, and hit a major league record of 19 homers by a rookie catcher. Over his first four seasons, he caught 612 games, an average of more than 150 a year.

In 1968, Randy established major league records for most games by a catcher, 160 of 163; and fewest catching errors, 4, while tying the major league record of fewest passed balls, 4.

That made it tough for Hundley to be held to 73 games in 1970 by injury to his left knee, and then play only nine games last season when he underwent surgery for a torn cruciate ligament in his right knee.

"Of all the ligaments you could tear, that's the worst," said Randy, whose operation was followed by gall bladder complication and a blood infection which dropped him from his playing weight of 180 to 155 pounds.

Hundley arrived at the Cubs Scottsdale, Ariz., camp last Jan. 19 and started rehabilitation by lifting weights with his legs; playing golf daily with weighted shoes; running, and taking whirlpool treatments.

Squatting behind the plate was a big concern at first, but Hundley now says, "I've been pleased because I have been able to squat real good, although it takes me a little while to get loosened up before I can get into the squatting position."

Randy's biggest concern now is baserunning.

"I worry constantly about being caught in an awkward position, or about the quick stop or change of direction you may have to make running the bases," he said.

Durocher will be more than happy if Hundley can catch as many as 120 games. "I'll try to rest him as much as possible," said Leo. "You can't be out two years and not feel it, the timing is affected. He can't be real good for a long time."

As for Hundley's personal target of total games, Randy says: "Like the football coaches always put it — I'll play one game at a time."

Michigan Tops Michigan State In 7-0 Shutout

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Mickey Elwood pitched a one-hitter and Michigan batters collected 11 hits as the Wolverines shut out Michigan State Saturday, 7-0.

Elwood, U-M's top pitcher despite a 1-3 record, lost a no-hit bid in the eighth inning when Spartan catcher Ron Pruitt singled. It was the only hit MSU got as Elwood struck out four and walked four.

The Spartans lost more than the ballgame, however, as left-fielder Jerry Sackmann, leading the club in hitting at over .400, collided with centerfielder Shaun Howitt chasing a Wolverine double and broke his wrist.

Via Nets, 124-103

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Nets 35-22 in the third period to move into an 88-78 lead going into the final period, the biggest lead up to that point, and the game was out of reach for the Nets the rest of the way.

Roger Brown and Mel Daniels each added 23 points for the Pacers, while Billy Keller hit 19 and rookie George McGinnis 16. McGinnis led the Pacers to a big edge in rebounding with 22, many on the offensive board.

Rick Barry and John Roche kept the Nets in the contest in the first half. Barry, who averaged 33 against the Pacers during the regular season, was the game's high scorer with 34 points, while Roche added 29, but hit only seven in the second half.

The second game in the best-of-seven series will be played at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum in Indianapolis Tuesday night.

Lewis exploded in the third period with 12 points, including the game's first three-point goal, as he wound up with 31 points. The three-pointer by the Lewis gave the Pacers a 77-74 lead, breaking the 11th tie of the game, and Indiana led the rest of the way.

The Pacers outscored the Nets 35-22 in the third period, leading by as many as 23 points.

Lakers Cautious, But Confident

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The often-frustrated Los Angeles Lakers returned home Saturday anxious to meet the New York Knicks Sunday night and confident they would clinch their first National Basketball Association championship since moving to the West Coast in 1960.

The Lakers, following a sweep of the third and fourth games in New York, held a commanding 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven final series. The teams had split the first two games here, the Knicks winning the opener and the Lakers bouncing back for a victory in the second game.

No team ever has trailed 3-1 in an NBA championship series and won the title.

"One more time," a Los Angeles player shouted in the dressing room after the Lakers had outlasted the Knicks 116-111 in overtime Friday night.

"World championship," yelled another.

"We've got to do it Sunday,"

NFL Rejecting Board Proposals About Disputes

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The National Football League is rejecting the National Labor Relations Board's proposal on settling disputes with players over artificial turf and certain fines.

Max Rotenberg, acting director of the regional office of the NLRB, said he expects to receive the NFL's written explanation Monday. Normally, he said, such a rejection results in issuance of a formal complaint.

If the NLRB issues a complaint, a hearing would be held in about a month.

The NFL Players Association complained to the NLRB that the league refused to bargain on the possibility that artificial turf creates injuries. The NFLPA also maintains that $20,000 in fines levied against 108 players for leaving benches during a fight are not authorized in the contract.

The NLRB issued a ruling Tuesday suggesting that the NFL negotiate those issues with the players.

Tigers Storm Past Hornets By 11-6 Count

MT. STERLING — Beardstown pushed seven runs across in the top of the fourth inning on the way to sweeping past host Brown County 11-6 in a non-conference game played Saturday afternoon.

The Tigers took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, with the Hornets coming back to tie the game at 1-1 in the last of the third. Beardstown then roared out to an 8-1 lead and notched lone tallies in the last three innings to nail down the win.

Greg Carlock of Brown County and Coll of Beardstown hit home runs to lead their squads at the plate.

Brown County, 5-5, is set to face Chandlerville in the Beardstown District Monday afternoon.

Hawkeyes Take Doubleheader From Gophers

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Iowa Hawkeyes, erupting with four homers in the fifth inning of the nightcap, swept a doubleheader from the Minnesota Gophers Saturday, 3-2 and 6-2, and took second place in the Big Ten baseball race.

The victories left Iowa with a 9-3 conference record and knocked the Gophers to 8-4.

David Blazin, Jim Sundberg and Larry Schutzius hit consecutive solo homers off Gopher starter Dennis Alar in the fifth inning. Fred Mims then knocked Alar from the mound with a single and Tom Hurn blasted reliever Bob Turnbull's first pitch for a two-run homer.

Tim Grice hit a solo shot for Minnesota in the first inning.

In the opener, Iowa pushed across a run in the 8th inning to shade the Gophers.

Gary Morgan and Mark Flinders each hit homers for the Minnesota runs.

The Hawkeyes got a two-run homer from Sundberg in the fifth inning to tie the game and then won it when Sundberg's grounder went through Gary Hohman for an error in the extra inning.

Ken Schultz lost his first game of the year for the Gophers after six victories.

ship playoff Sunday afternoon are battling for a bogus bowl.

When NHL President Clarence Campbell presents the winning team with the big prize, it won't be the original Cup which Lord Stanley purchased for 10 pounds—about $48.67—back in 1893. Instead, the winners will sip their champagne from a replica, complete down to the most minute detail, while the real Cup sits serenely in its glass showcase at the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto.

The NHL, concerned over the rather fragile condition of Lord Stanley's original mug, two years ago commissioned C.P. Petersen, a Danish silversmith who lives in Montreal, to reproduce it.

Petersen created a twin to the original Cup, recreating every nick and scratch, dent and scrape. The second Cup—the one either the Rangers or Bruins will celebrate with—is used for ceremonial duties and display purposes around the league's 14 cities. Its big brother, without the hefty pedestal on which the Cup was mounted, could be easily overlooked and, in fact, has been.

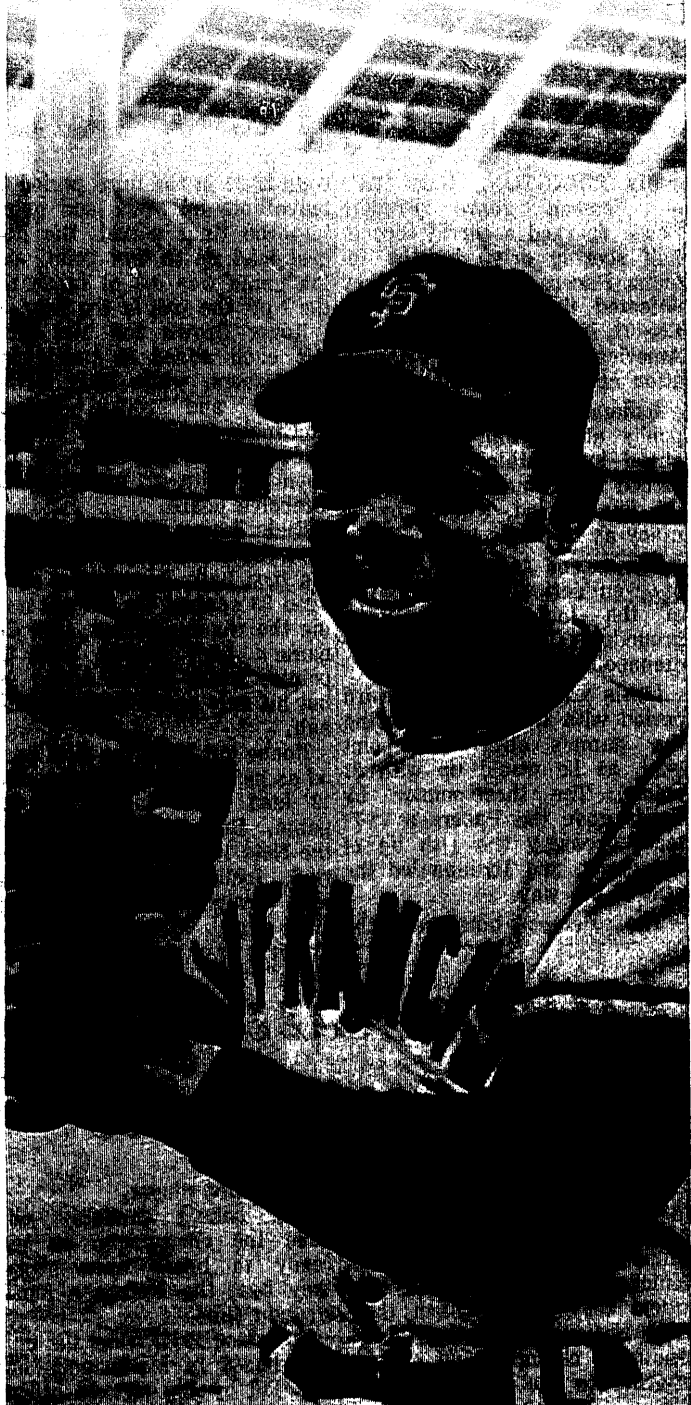

When thieves broke into the Hall of Fame two years ago, they reached over the stand housing Lord Stanley's modest looking original Cup, and lifted the replica instead. It still was a costly heist. The replica, complete with its lavish base, is valued at $25,000.

Winning it is worth much more than that to Boston and New York. Each player on the championship Cup team gets $15,000 with the losers getting $7,500 each. Based on 21 shares per team, that comes to $315,000 for the winners and $157,500 for the losers. Additionally, Boston players earned $2,500 for finishing first in the East, and each Ranger got $1,250 for finishing second.

The Bruins won the first two games of this series in Boston, but the Rangers bounced back to take the third Thursday night. The teams will play the fifth game Tuesday night in Boston.

If a sixth is needed, it will be played Thursday night in New York; and, if the series goes to a decisive seventh, it is scheduled for next Sunday afternoon in Boston.

NEW YORK — The New York Mets say yes, they still want Willie Mays. They'll still take him with his microscopic .182 batting average and all. Prying him away from the San Francisco Giants is something else, though. Mays who turned 41 Saturday, has been with them all his baseball life and even though he's near the end of the trail, they still aren't sure they should send him to the Mets. (UPI Telephoto)

Willie Mays On Trading Block?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The strong possibility arose Friday that San Francisco outfielder Willie Mays will soon be playing for the Mets in New York, where 21 years ago the kid from Westfield, Ala., began one of the greatest careers in baseball history.

The word from informed sources was that, since knowledge of the talks concerning Mays had become public through a story by Jack Lang in the Long Island Press, announcement of the transaction that would bring the Giant's slugger to the Mets might be made as early as Tuesday.

Horace Stoneham, the Giants' president, had indicated when he was contacted about the report that there was substance to it and that the parties involved would get together when the Giants move into New York next Friday.

"I didn't think it would get into the newspapers," said Stoneham, who has been talking with M. Donald Grant, the Mets' board chairman. "Maybe we'll talk when we go to New York. We'll discuss it. We'll discuss the possibility."

Illini Drop Two To Wildcats

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern strengthened its hold on first place in the Big Ten baseball race Friday by sweeping a doubleheader from Illinois, 10-5 and 6-1.

The Wildcats spotted Illinois four runs in the first inning of the opener but came back with six of their own in the bottom of the first. Freshman third baseman Ed Grzelakowski provided the big blow for Northwestern with a bases-loaded blast to wind up a two-game total of nine runs batted in.

Right-hander Steve McMullen pitched a one-hitter in the nightcap. The lone run was a solo blast by Illini shortstop Garry Nicholson.

The Big Ten's leading hitter, outfielder John McCarthy of Northwestern, went two-for-six and his average dropped to .591.

Lakers Drop Knicks In Overtime 116-111

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry West hit two free throws with 1:15 remaining in overtime and Gail Goodrich added three points in the closing minute, giving the Los Angeles Lakers a 116-111 victory over the New York Knicks Friday night and a commanding 3-1 lead in their National Basketball Association championship series.

The Lakers can wrap up the best-of-seven series and clinch their first championship since moving to Los Angeles in 1960—beating the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Friday night.

West, the leading scorer in NBA playoff history, snapped a 111-111 deadlock with his pair of foul shots after being fouled by Walt Frazier. The two points gave West a game-high total of 28 and a career playoff figure of 4,029.

Thirty-four seconds later Goodrich connected on a jump shot and with 18 seconds remaining he sank one of two free throws, giving him 27 points for the game.

Frazier had sent the game into overtime by tapping in a missed shot by Dave DeBusschere with three seconds left in regulation, tying the score 101-101. West's running one-hander from the right side had broken a 99-99 tie only eight seconds earlier.

Bill Bradley paced the Knicks with 26 points. Jerry Lucas contributed 25 and Frazier had 24.

Aaron And Niekro Tip Cardinals, 2-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hank Aaron drilled a two-run homer, his 644th career blast, and Phil Niekro pitched a seven-hitter as the Atlanta Braves halted a three-game losing streak by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Friday night.

The 38-year-old Aaron, whose homer was his fifth of the campaign, picked on a high Bob Gibson slider for his blast after Felix Millan opened the game with a single.

Niekro, 3-2, put out a St. Louis rally in the ninth, when the Cardinals scored their only run on Joe Torre's single. The knuckleballer pitched out of trouble with men on first and third with two out by striking out Ted Simmons.

Gibson stiffened after being rocked by Aaron's blow but drew little support at bat or in the field, his worst start in the majors.

Aaron's shot lifted him within two of San Francisco's Willie Mays on the all-time list of home run hitters. Mays, who ranks second behind Babe Ruth, has 646.

Orr Adds Pair Of NHL Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston's Bobby Orr owns two more National Hockey League awards — his third straight Hart Trophy as Most Valuable Player

Trophy as the No. 1 defenseman. Orr's selection, by a vote of the Professional Hockey Writers of America, along with the naming of New York's Jean Ratelle as the Lady Byng winner and Montreal goalie Ken Dryden as the Calder Trophy recipient was announced Friday at a league luncheon. The Byng is for sportsmanship and effective play and the Calder for the outstanding rookie.

Official designation also was given to Phil Esposito of the Bruins as the regular season scoring leader for which he receives the Art Ross Trophy, and to Tony Esposito and Gary Smith of Chicago, who shared the Vezina Trophy for the best goaltending record in the league.

General Manager Milt Schmidt of the Bruins, who lead the Rangers 2-1 in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup championship series, accepted the Ross Trophy for Esposito. Esposito was in Boston taking treatment for an injured leg. But Orr was on hand to receive his awards.

Orr had 204 of a possible 210 points in voting by members of the Professional Hockey Writers Association. In the MVP vote, Orr totaled 126 points to 89 for Montreal's Dryden. The Canadiens' goalie, eligible for the rookie award because he played only six regular season games for Montreal last year, topped Buffalo's Rick Martin in the freshman vote by 20 points, 152-132.

Orioles Rally For 3-2 Margin Via Kansas City

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles rallied for three runs in the bottom of the eighth inning Friday night and beat Kansas City 3-2 after the Royals had scored twice in the top of the eighth.

Mark Belanger started the winning rally with a single, just the fourth hit off Mike Hedlund, and pinch hitter Terry Crowley also singled.

Tom Burmeier relieved Hedlund and Don Buford bunted safely down the third base line, with Belanger scoring and pinch runner Dave Leonhard reaching third when Paul Schaal's throw got by Cookie Rojas covering first.

Merv Rettenmund singled, tying the score and sending Buford to third. Boog Powell then hit a fly ball to center and Buford scored as Rettenmund was being doubled up at send base.

Jim Palmer, 2-2, had allowed only one hit and retired 15 batters in a row until Richie Scheinblum singled with one out in the eighth for Kansas City and Ed Kirkpatrick belted a two-out home run.

Strike Has Hurt Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball has been damaged by the first general strike in its history — a fact reflected by a decrease in attendance and a corresponding lowering of the esteem in which the players are held by the fans who foot the bill.

But any complete analysis of the effect of the strike on the sport awaits two dates: The first is the beginning of June, when baseball weather is guaranteed and post-season playoffs in other sports have ended, enabling all involved to get a closer look at the reasons behind a dropoff in major league attendance of more than 300,000.

The second date probably will come after the World Series, but could come earlier, depending on when new negotiations begin on both the sticky pension issue that provoked the strike and the entire general agreement.

The decline in attendance and player esteem plus the question of what happens in the future were the major points coming out of Associated Press study of the effects of the strike on the game, its players and its leaders.

That study showed: —Major league attendance is down 316,722 compared with the same number of playing dates last year; it is down more than that in the American League alone, with the National showing a slight increase.

—The attendance fallout possibly could affect the future of three clubs: St. Louis, San Diego and Texas.

—The June target date will more clearly show whether the dropoff in attendance will be a continuing factor, which naturally would cause considerable concern.

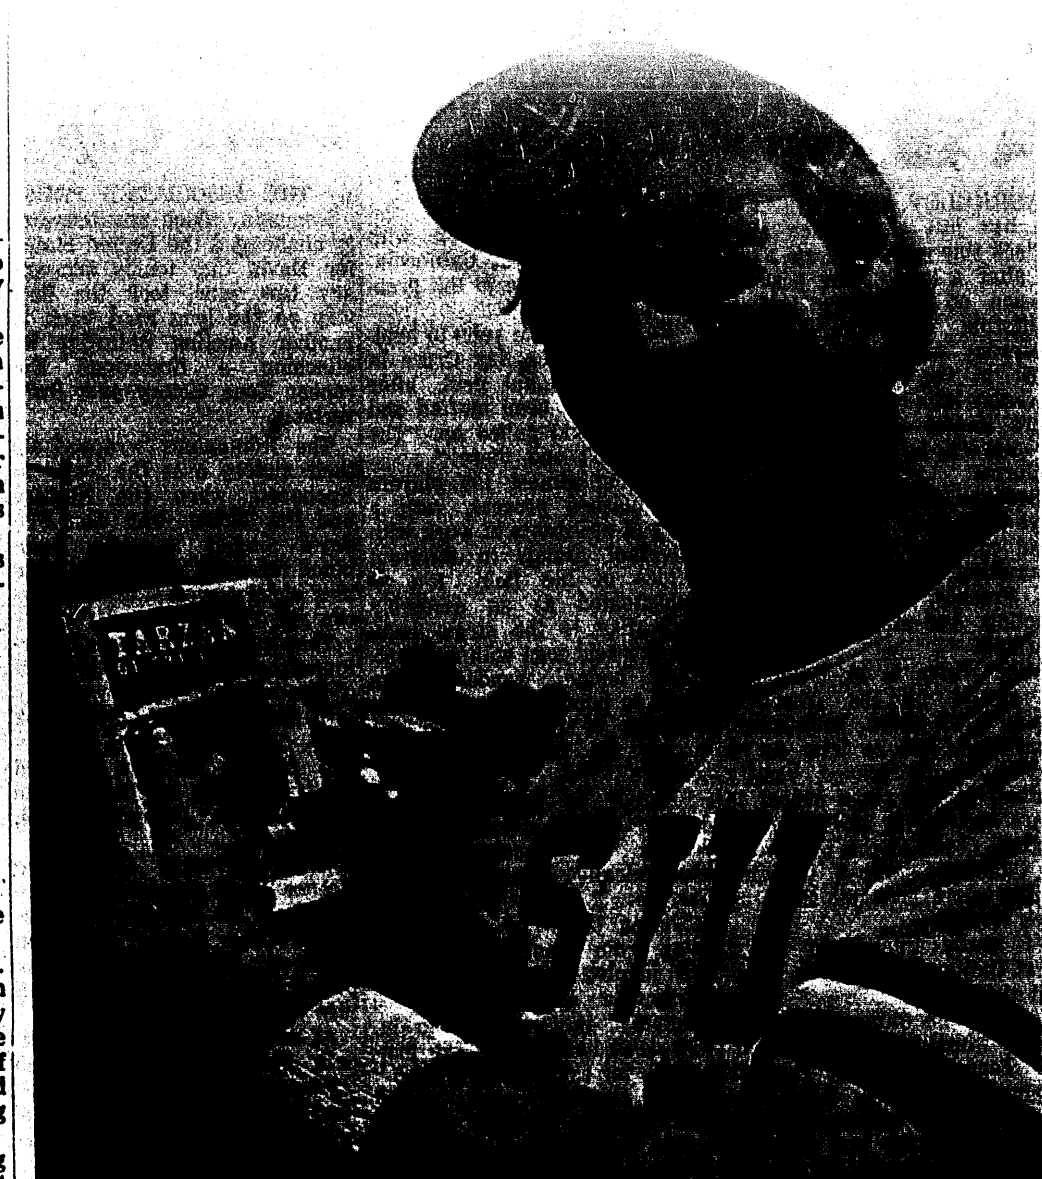

—The beginning of negotiations on new contracts will be the determining factor in whether the recriminations of the past can be forgotten and turned to future advantage.

—There has been a call, by Minnesota owner Cal Griffith, for an earlier beginning of contract negotiations, possibly as early as June, so that the brink isn't reached as quickly as it was this year.

—There has been a call, by Oakland owner Charles O. Finley, to offset any damage to the game by the strike with the institution of changes to make the sport "more interesting and entertaining."

—The problem of the dropoff in attendance is major, but an optimistic outlook comes from Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who uses measuring stick that shows average per date attendance up 12 per cent.

—If you take the point where the season started this year and compare it with a comparable period last season, two weeks into the season, attendance is up 12 per cent. And that's despite some above average weather problems."

CARBONDALE, ILL. — Torzan of the Salukis, that's Joe Wallis, Southern Illinois University's fearless sophomore centerfielder. The Florissant, Mo., native currently ranks among the nation's leading college hitters with a .442 average. Wallis, who would rather crash into the outfield fence than miss a chance at hauling down a long fly ball, earned his nickname, "Torzan," by some of his off the field daredevil stunts. Jumping off buildings, bluffs, etc., since he was ten, Wallis' latest feat is a leap from the roof of a two-story dorm into an eight foot deep swimming pool. "It's a little tricky, but it sure beats taking a shower when it's hot outside," Wallis says. (UPI Telephoto)

Wynn And Dierker Stop Chicago, 3-0

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Wynn slugged a two-run homer and drove in all three runs Friday, leading Houston to a 3-0 victory which snapped a four-game Chicago Cub winning streak.

It also marked Houston's fourth triumph over the Cubs in as many games this season as Larry Dierker, 2-1, checked the Cubs on five hits. Roger Metzger opened the game with a single to center, took second on a wild pitch, advanced to third on a ground out and scored as Wynn grounded out.

Losers Burt Hooton, 2-3, hit Cesar Cedeño with a pitch to start the fifth inning and Wynn followed with his sixth homer of the season.

Dierker, working past seven innings for the first time this season, was backed by five double plays.

Philadelphia's surprising Phillies, nicknamed the "Blitz Kids" by their manager, defeated the San Francisco Giants and Juan Marichal 3-2 Friday night when Don Money led off the ninth inning with a single and Mike Anderson doubled him home.

The triumph gave the Phillies a 12-6 record while the Giants lost for the fourth time in a row and 12th in the last 14 games.

The Giants scored both their runs off Billy Champion, 3-0, with two out in the first inning when Willie Mays walked, Bob Bonds singled and Dave Kingman tripled. Kingman was cut down at the plate trying for a home run.

Finley is hopeful of a return to normal — but even as the Oakland owner hopes for that he pushes for change.

"I think the time is ripe now to make plans for 1973 for steps to improve the game," Finley said.

Finley's methods for winning fans back include inter-league play between the American and National leagues and the use of a pinch hitter for the pitcher without his being taken out of the game.

What's on everyone's mind is whether negotiations will be conducted differently than in the past, the past hopefully contributing to a sounder future.

"I would hope both the players' association and the clubs approach negotiations with greater care and delicacy," said Burke. "Both sides were guilty of being rather cavalier. I would hope we are all a little more determined to use our heads and not get trapped again, including Miller."

"No one wants to see a strike the first time, let alone a second," said Miller. "But if the owners assume they can go back to the way it was and walk all over our players and have no reaction, they're wrong."

Cardinal president August Busch has hinted at a possible sale of the club. The Padres have not been averaging the 10,000 they say they need to remain in San Diego. The Rangers' attendance in their new Texas home compares unfavorably with what they were drawing at this stage of the 1971 season in Washington.

Finley is hopeful of a return to normal — but even as the Oakland owner hopes for that he pushes for change.

"I think the time is ripe now to make plans for 1973 for steps to improve the game," Finley said.

Aurora's Smith Signs Tender With Bradley

PEORIA — Greg Smith, 6-6, 210-pound All-State standout at Aurora East High School, has become the second such basketball player to sign a national letter-of-intent with Bradley University in a week. The first was 6-0 Jim Caruthers of Sumner High in Kansas City, Kansas.

Smith, a record-setter and leading scorer in the 1972 Illinois High School Association's finals with 112 points, owns six records at Aurora East.

The big, blond sharpshooter scored 1834 points in three seasons for one mark. In his last year he hit 618 per cent from the field, set marks in free throws with 221 attempted and 187 made for .846 per cent, had a one-year scoring high of 859 points and a rebounding total of 480 during a 28-4 season for an average of more than 14 per game. He had a 26.5 scoring average this past season.

Playing for an outstanding coach, Ernie Kivistio, Smith propelled Aurora East to a third place finish in the tournament for the large schools in Illinois.

Smith, who was selected on the top team of each publication which names an all-state squad, is a B student ranking 194 in a class of 620 and will be 19 years old next Aug. 25.

The future Brave has a one-game high of 44 points against Quincy. Smith scored 36 points in each of three other games.

Coach Kivistio said of Smith that, "if I'd played Greg as much as I played in every game, he would have averaged more than 30 points."

Kivistio continued, "Greg is the kind of young man every college wants. He's had more than 200 offers and cut them to two fine schools — Bradley and Illinois. He's a hard worker in that he practices about 600 hours each summer."

Bradley coach Joe Stowell said: "Smith and Caruthers are the type of young men we've been looking for and getting the past few years. They'll fit right into our program. It's something to get two such prominent players in the same year."

Badgers Sweep 2 From Purdue

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Dave Olle drove in five runs, three with a bases-loaded double in the first game, leading Wisconsin to a 4-1, 8-0 doubleheader victory over Purdue in Big Ten college baseball Friday.

Dave Domski hurled a five-hit shutout in the opener and Tom Rodol spaced six hits in the nightcap as the Badgers squared their conference record at 4-4 and became 12-17 overall. Purdue slipped to 2-6 in the Big Ten and 9-15 in all games.

Olle's bases-clearing double in the sixth inning of the opener broke a 1-1 tie and provided the winning margin. The Badgers had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth on doubles by Fred Spytke and Greg O'Brien, but the Boilermakers tied it in the fifth on Jamie Pratt's run-scoring single.

Olle drove in a run on a fielder's choice in the fourth inning of the nightcap. The Badgers wrapped it up with a six-run fifth, achieved on six hits, three walks and a balk.

STEERING COLUMN

By Bill Brodick

STUART, Va. — Got an invite to a party the other day. Nothing formal. No fancy engraved card slipped inside an envelope that was put inside another envelope that all added up just makes for more postage.

Just a simple word-of-mouth invite. It came from Glen Wood as I leaned against a stack of racing tires during practice for last Sunday's stock car race in Martinsville, Virginia.

The Wood brothers racing team was to be honored by the town of Stuart, Virginia, at a reception in the new Patrick County High School gym. The affair was presented by the Booster Club. I wouldn't have missed it for the world. You don't say "no" to a friend.

It looked like all 974 souls who live in Stuart were in the gym. Last year the Wood brothers team was featured in a four-page spread in LIFE. There have been other magazine articles and a national television exposure. Their achievements in motorsports have brought recognition to this sleepy, little mountain town and the people who live here are grateful.

Glen and Leonard Wood run the team with assistance from brothers Delano and Clay and cousins Ralph Edwards and Ken Martin. They're sorcerers at their business. The team changed two tires and added 14 gallons of gasoline to their stock car in the official time of 18.276 seconds during the Union 76 pit crew race of 1968. It's a world's record that still stands.

The drivers of Wood brothers' race cars are a Hall of Fame in themselves. A. J. Foyt, Dan Gurney, Parnelli Jones, and the late Curtis Turner, to name just a few.

Glen Wood started out as a driver of a modified racer on the dirt tracks that were carved out of the Virginia and Carolina countryside. In 1954, Glen sold the family sawmill, and racing became the family business.

"Our interest back then was the half-mile track," said Glen. "First paid $500 in the big races. But that wasn't so bad then. It didn't cost to build a car then like it does now."

So far, this year alone, the Wood brothers have won $96,945. When the factories got into the Ford Motor Company picked the Wood brothers team. They've stayed with Ford products even though the company is no longer officially involved in the sport.

"We wouldn't be where we are today if it wasn't for the Ford Motor Company. They've done a lot for us over the years continued Glen. "I have a loyalty to Ford. They gave us all the parts we had when they got out of racing. They could have taken them back and sold them if they'd wanted to. We'd never race anything else."

"The way they (Ford) talk, it will be a long time before management decides to come back. They're thumbs down on it now. The high-performance car is on the way out because of financing and insurance. The kids are the only ones who want the four-speed with the big engine," Glen continued.

"But racing still sells cars. I know because people buy cars from us because we're in racing."

Glen Wood is co-owner of a Lincoln-Mercury dealership in Danville, Virginia.

Why is a driver better in a Wood brothers prepared car than in another of the same make? What's the trick?

"Factory backing has put a lot of things on a race car. But Leonard (Wood) has come up with a lot, too. But I'd rather not talk about them. The main thing is to keep the opposition wondering. When they're legal or what we're doing, it takes away from their operation. It's good to keep them guessing. You have to do that."

The Wood brothers racing team lives here in a small town. A mountain town. The fame they've achieved hasn't changed them. You could never tell they've won well over a million dollars. They're proud to be a part of the community.

And when you look around the Patrick County High School gym and see the townsfolk packed into the bleacher-type seats and eat the homemade cookies and sip the punch and listen to the laughter, it's plain to see that the community is equally proud that the Wood brothers are a part of it.

Hunt, Stoneman Carry Montreal By Dodgers, 3-1

MONTREAL (AP) — Ron Kunt's two-run double in the third inning and Bill Stoneman's seven-hit pitching carried the Montreal Expos to a 3-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Friday night.

Stoneman, 3-2, and Tommy John were locked in a scoreless duel when Willie Davis uncorked his fourth home run of the season in the top of the third to give Los Angeles a 1-0 lead.

But Montreal came back with two runs in the bottom of the inning. Ron Woods and Terry Humphrey led off with singles, the first hits off John, and advanced on Stoneman's sacrifice. Hunt then followed with a double down the right field line, scoring both runners.

The Expos got their third run off John, 2-2 in the next inning. Ken Singleton led off with a single, moved to third on Woods' single and scored when Steve Garvey, attempting to get Woods at second, threw the ball into right field.

Los Angeles 001 000 000—1 7 2 Montreal 002 100 000—3 8 0 John, Mikkelsen (6) and Sims; Stoneman and Humphrey, Boccabella (8). W—Stoneman, 3-2. L—John, 2-2. HR—Los Angeles, Davis (4).

Lead Poisoning Of River Ducks Appears Down

SPRINGFIELD — The die-off responsible for the death of from 1,000 to 2,000 ducks along the Illinois river from Pekin to Havana has subsided, according to Illinois Department of Conservation officials.

Most of the duck casualties were lesser scaup (bluebill).

Cause of the massive die-off was ingestion of lead shot. Ducks had been eating lead pellets on lake bottoms, accumulated during the 1971 hunting season. Due to the dry year, the pellets didn't settle through the mud, as usual, but stayed on the bottom surface where ducks swallowed them along with their food.

"Heavy rains and warming weather are responsible for cessation of the duck die-off in this area," said Henry N. Barkhausen, department director. "The warming weather has caused 95 per cent of the water-fowl to move farther north to their nesting grounds, while the high water has flooded nearby fields and the remaining birds are feeding on these new areas."

The director pointed out that these grounds were not shot over during the season and therefore there is no shot on the land for the ducks to ingest.

About 10,000 lesser scaup remain on the area, with smaller amounts of green winged teal and other species.

"There are still a few sick ducks remaining on the area," said Jim Lockart, supervisor of the department's division of wildlife resources. These ducks can't eat or fly and will probably die soon. Most of them are scaup."

Personnel of the University of Illinois School of Veterinary Medicine found lead poisoning to be the cause of death. The lead was broken down in the bird's gizzards and sent into the blood stream. In some cases the ducks had eaten so much lead shot that their death was very rapid, while in other cases the birds lingered.

"Because of the warmer weather and high water, the danger of a continued die-off is temporarily over," said Frank Bellrose, a waterfowl specialist from the Illinois Natural History Survey. "However, the key word is temporary. The only true solution will be for the firearms industry to develop an alternate metal shot to substitute for the lead now being used."

"The attrition of our waterfowl constantly takes place, with over a million of the 90 million waterfowl in North America dying annually. However, it is only when a massive die-off like this one occurs that the public becomes aware of the problem."

The National Wildlife Federation is making urgent demands upon the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife to make the firearms industry switch over to iron shot.

"We have got to do something before it is too late," Bellrose continued. "We can't afford to waste such an important natural resource as our waterfowl at such a staggering rate."

Stirs The Water

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ron Swoboda, who has a way of making waves without even going near the water, did it again the other day.

He simply said what he thought and stirred up an entire community.

It happened in a place called Hicksville, N.Y., where he had been the guest speaker before an assembly full of high school students.

His subject was drugs. Swoboda actually had finished his talk and now came the question and answers. This is the give-and-take that can be a little rough on a professional athlete who's not really an experienced lecturer because young people don't pull their punches.

One young man in the audience had a question for the Yankees' broad-backed, thick-forearmed outfielder.

"You said you had two sons of your own," he addressed Swoboda. "What would you do if you found out they were smoking marijuana?"

There was no place for Ron Swoboda to run and hide now. He wouldn't if he could. He believes in saying exactly what he thinks, so when that question was thrown at him he stepped right up and lit into it.

Ron Swoboda said he "did marijuana"—meaning he had tried it.

More than that he said he was in favor of legalizing it. For certain reasons.

You can imagine the reaction! Immediate Outcries

Here was a ballplayer admitting he had used pot. Advocating the legalization of it, too. And before a packed assembly of high school kids.

There were immediate outcries. Some people called the high school. Others called the two major newspapers on Long Island.

"He had no business making statements like that to a bunch of high school children," snapped one irate caller.

To make any judgment as to whether Ron Swoboda was or wasn't wrong in saying what he did, it helps to know a little more about him.

"I care," he says. That is perfectly obvious. It is obvious in all the things Swoboda does and says, although even he admits some of the things he does and says occasionally come up a little outside of the mark.

On one of his wrists, for example, he wears a nickel plated steel bracelet bearing the name of one of our prisoners of war taken by the Viet Cong.

Swoboda isn't wearing it as any gimmick. He wears it because he knows a non-political student organization in Los Angeles uses the funds from these bracelets to publicize the plight of the POWs, attempts to secure their release and also help their families.

Similarly, when Swoboda read that a drug program was being started in Oyster Bay, N.Y., and that it would utilize athletes with the Mets, Nets and Rangers to speak to young people, he got on the phone immediately with one of the town's civic leaders.

"Hey, I live here," he said. "How come I wasn't contacted? I'm deeply concerned with what young people are thinking and doing about this problem. I want to know what I can do about it?"

"You Can Talk About It?" "You can talk about it," Swoboda was told.

"Yes," he answered, "but I'd like to use some straight talk for a change."

That's what he felt he was using when he said what he did to those high

Soybean Futures Gain Four Cents

By ED DE MOCH
AP Business Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures gained nearly 4 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade this past week, but wheat futures fell back almost as much.

Corn and oats futures closed on an irregular tone, but soybean oil and meal as well as feed broilers gained ground.

When trade had ended for the week on Friday, soybeans were 1/2 to 3/4 cents a bushel higher, May 3.49 1/2; wheat was 1/4 to 3/8 cents lower, May 1.61 1/2; corn was 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, May 1.23 and oats were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May 69 cents.

Soybean oil was 20 to 27 points higher, May 11.43; soybean meal was 25 to 235 points higher, May 99.70; and feed broilers were 7 to 32 points higher, May 28.42.

The strength of prices in the soybean complex was generally linked to expectations that President Nixon will forego the nucleus of an agreement for agricultural products when he visits Russia later this month.

Agriculture Secretary Butz, said during the week, however, that while he feels a pact will be forthcoming for the purchase of commodities from the United States, he said Russia would get no special credit arrangement.

Prices of soybeans, soy oil and meal were weak early in the week, then improved almost steadily on buying linked to exports and new business in the future. Short-covering also was a factor in the gains.

The nearby May wheat option was strong early in the week on buying influenced by tight Chicago wheat stocks, but then local professionals and May and other options weakened.

The weather and generally improved condition of the new winter wheat crop also affected wheat futures.

Corn and oats trade was relatively light and prices were lower until Friday when short-covering and reports of slowed field work because of rains tended to influence new buying.

There also were peace in Vietnam rumors on Friday along with an unconfirmed report that the Nixon administration was trying to get West Coast longshoremen to accept a pact, to be announced Monday, on their recently negotiated raise. These reports tended to influence buyers.

Feed broiler trade was dull throughout all five sessions, although some buying of distant options was influenced by trade reports that poultry prices will be higher this summer because of reduced flocks.

State Income Tax Questions, Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Springfield office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. The person I paid to fill out my tax return has not signed it. Should I make sure that he does?

A. Yes. Anyone who prepares your return for compensation is required to sign your Form 1040 in the space provided at the bottom of the form. Spaces are also provided for the preparer's address and the date he signs the return.

Q. I am supposed to receive a bonus from company for making the most sales last year. Do I have to pay tax on the bonus the year I earned it or the year it's actually paid me?

A. The bonus or award is taxable to you when paid or made available to you.

Q. Instead of taking the standard deduction as I did on last year's return, I decided to itemize this year and saved some money. I now think I could have saved by itemizing on my 1970 return. Can I go back and file again for that year?

A. Yes. This is done by preparing a Form 1040X. ON this form, you simply recompute the portion that has changed from your original return and send it, along with any necessary related information, to the address shown in the instructions for that form. Forms 1040X can be obtained from any IRS office.

In general, your amended return claiming a refund must be filed within 3 years from the date your original return was filed or 2 years from the date you paid the tax, whichever is later. For this purpose, a return filed early is considered to have been filed on the due date.

Q. Does the Internal Revenue Service pay interest to the taxpayer when it is late in issuing a refund?

A. Yes. However, the IRS has 45 days from the due date of the return or the date of filing, whichever is later, to issue a refund without payment of interest. If it takes longer than that, interest at an annual rate of 6 per cent from the due date or the date of filing, whichever is later, is added to the refund.

Q. I drive a 4-cylinder sports car. Can I take the full amount allowed by the state gasoline tax tables in my tax form instructions as a gas tax deduction?

A. No. For mileage driven in a 4-cylinder (or less) car, deduct half the table amount. Of course, if you can establish that you paid a larger amount than that shown in the table, you may deduct the larger amount.

Q. Can I deduct the rent I pay on a safe deposit box?

A. Yes. If you itemize, safe deposit box rent is deductible provided the box is used for the storage of taxable income-producing stocks, bonds, etc. The rent is not deductible if the box is used for personal effects or tax-exempt securities.

Q. I understand that the IRS has an official income tax guide for individuals. Where can I get a copy?

A. A copy of Publication 17, "Your Federal Income Tax," can be purchased for 75 cents at IRS district offices, the Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C. 20402, and many post offices throughout the country.

Q. Should I still use Schedule D to report a gain from the sale of rental property?

A. No. Schedule D is now used only for reporting the sale or exchange of a capital asset and in computing the alternative tax. Form 4797, "Supplemental Schedule of Gains and Losses," should be used to report certain sales, exchanges, or involuntary conversions of business or depreciable property, including the sale or rental property.

CIPS Plans New Generating Plant At Newton

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Central Illinois Public Service Co. announced Thursday plans for a $140 million electric generating station on an 8,000-acre site southwest of Newton in Southern Illinois.

K. E. Bowen, CIPS president, said completion of the 600,000 kilowatt generating station is scheduled for 1977. He said construction at the Jasper County site is expected to begin in early fall.

CIPS serves 540 communities in Central and Southern Illinois with electricity and 245 with natural gas. Bowen said total CIPS generating capacity will reach about 2.5 million kilowatts by 1977, with use of electric power increased by about 90 per cent by 1980.

Proposed plans call for a dam and a lake to provide water for the steam generating unit. About 2 million tons of coal will be used annually for fuel, Bowen said.

Business Market Wrapup

Stock Market Skids Past Bad Setback Last Week

By JOHN HENRY
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market suffered one of its biggest setbacks this year as it reacted this past week to news of the Communist offensive in South Vietnam and recent actions by the Price Commission.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials skidded nearly 13 points during the week, its biggest drop of the year, while the New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,300 common stocks posted its second biggest weekly loss for 1971.

The sharpest drop occurred Monday, when the Dow tumbled nearly 12 points for its largest daily loss in six months. On Tuesday the blue-chip indicator skidded another 7 points.

In the next session a report in the Paris newspaper France-Soir of a possible ceasefire in the Vietnam war ignited a rally but that fizzled when the U.S. State Department said the report was without foundation. Bargain hunting enabled the market to finish about even Thursday.

Prices turned sharply upward Friday after a report in France-Soir that the United States had accepted in secret talks two key peace demands of the North Vietnamese. A good portion of those gains melted when the Pentagon announced that U.S. marines might land in Vietnam to protect U.S. withdrawals or threatened military bases.

The market was further depressed after the State Department said there was no basis for the newspaper report of an agreement on peace terms.

The Dow average, which had been ahead nearly 6 points earlier, finished ahead Friday by only 3.92.

Analysts said that the market's preoccupation with Vietnam and the recent price rollbacks ordered by the Price Commission, obscured increasingly favorable economic news. Brokers said they were encouraged by the continued low trading volume, which dropped to 72.18 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange from 79.3 million shares the previous week.

The most active Big Board issue was American Motors, which closed the week up 1/4 at 9 1/2 on a volume of 1,713,500 shares. American, the nation's fourth largest automaker, reported a substantial profit in the March quarter compared with a loss a year earlier.

Of the 20 most active Big Board issues, 15 declined, four advanced and one was unchanged. On the American Stock Exchange the five most active issues were: Syntex, up 1 1/2 at 86 1/4; Loew's Corp., off 1 1/2 at 24 1/2; Austral Oil, up 1/4 at 28 1/4; Jewelcor, off 5/8 at 29 1/2; and Banister Continental, off 1 1/2 at 24 1/2.

On the 1,927 issues traded on the Big Board, 1,282 declined and 500 advanced. New yearly lows were reached by 288 issues and highs by 59.

The market indicators behaved as follows during the past week:

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials dropped 12.94 to 941.23. The Associated Press 60 stock average declined 4.1 to 332.2. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index slipped 1.04 to 106.63. The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,300 common stocks dropped 0.70. The American Stock Exchange slipped 0.43 to 27.53.

Prices Dominate Business News

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices were at the crux of the nation's business news during the past week.

The Price Commission ordered a freeze on prices of all companies with annual sales of $50 million or more that fail to file their quarterly profit-margin reports by next Wednesday.

It also decided not to change regulations exempting food prices from control, because of a "sufficient easing" in food costs, but it will step up its monitoring activities.

Meanwhile President Nixon's chief economic adviser expressed doubt that wage and price controls would be lifted in 1972.

"I would think it unlikely that Phase 2 will end at the end of this year," Herbert Stein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, told a news conference.

C. Jackson Grayson Jr., Price Commission chairman, estimated there were 2,954 large firms that were required to file quarterly profit reports by last Monday, but said only 1,375 had done so.

President Nixon, in his remarks at Treasury Secretary John Connally's ranch in Texas, said: "I strongly favor not only the present depreciation rate but even going further than that, so that we can get our plants and equipment more effective." Depreciation is a deduction from taxable income to compensate businesses for the gradual wearing out of capital goods.

The President also predicted a major energy crisis in the United States in the 1980s and said: "To avoid that energy crisis, we have to provide incentive rather than disincentive for people to go out and explore for oil. That is why you have depletion, and the people have got to understand it."

Depletion is an allowance for exhaustion of mineral resources.

On the labor front, tension increased in the West Coast dock workers' case.

In San Francisco Albert C. Wollenberg, U.S. District Court judge, ruled that the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the Pacific Maritime Association could negotiate a $20-million escrow arrangement and then test its legality in a court suit.

The union had sued the Pay Board over the Board's reduction from 20 per cent to 14 per cent of a pay boost negotiated after a 134-day strike. It demanded that the disputed 6 per cent be placed in escrow and be paid out at the expiration of its contract in 1973 or when the Pay Board changes its regulations.

The Pay Board was to have acted during the past week on a proposed longshore contract settlement covering dock workers on the East Coast, the Gulf Coast and the port of New Orleans, but delayed its decision until next Monday.

LET'S GO BIRDWATCHING

By Emma May Leonhard

The Robin and the Soup Bone
Sometimes we can have as much fun watching unusual antics of our common birds as finding a new bird to add to our list of birds. In other words, bird behavior is a significant study. Robins are plentiful now, and so is their main food: earth worms and night crawlers. We have often observed a Robin standing at attention and seemingly listening intently. More often than not, it succeeds in detecting a fat worm, digging down to it, pulling it out, and swallowing its dangling victim whole or in parts. Who has, however, ever seen a Robin pecking at a soup bone? Two of us on the Illinois College campus saw this performance. After watching it for a short time we moved closer to the Robin and the bone. The Robin eyed us and ran a short distance from the bone and us. Unwilling to interfere with its lunch, we retreated. The Robin ran back to the grizzly bone and continued to dine on something. We left it to its leisurely dining.

Mr. and Mrs. Cardinal
As the Wards on Sandusky Street were watching their bird feeder during breakfast time, they happened to spy upon a real love scene. Mr. Cardinal was stuffing Mr. Cardinal with seeds from the feeder, and she didn't seem to mind this service one bit. The fact is that Mr. Cardinal, a few days before, could have chased his wife away from the feed, but now it was time to change his tactics. It was time for nest building and increasing the family. It was time to accept the fact that his wife was more important than he was and a pretty fine woman after all.

Broad-winged Hawks
Eat Night Crawlers
We think of hawks as birds of prey. They hover or hold their position low or high above a field. When their sharp eyesight catches a glimpse of movement in the vegetation below and the presence of their favorite animal food, down they dive and usually succeed in catching it. Two Broad-winged Hawks, for several days, visited the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Randall's home on Mound Avenue. It is unusual to see such a species in a city yard; but these two hawks broke another custom: they flew down on the ground, pulled out night crawlers, and fed on them. What a surprise!

Mourning Doves
Build on the Ground
Mourning Doves are nesting now in Jacksonville. Many of you have seen a Dove sitting on its carelessly built nest, which is composed of a few sticks arranged in no fixed pattern in the crotch of a tree. A windstorm frequently wrecks this tangle of sticks. As some of us were stalking a field in search of Smith's Longspurs, we came upon two Mourning Doves' nests built in the same careless way upon the ground.

One nest held two Dove's eggs; the second one, one egg. These ground nests were being used, to our great surprise. Perhaps these Mourning Doves are smarter than their peers; at least their nests won't fall out of trees.

Good-bye, Sandhill Crane!
One Tuesday afternoon in April the Sandhill Crane left its very special home with the Ivan Petefishes. As we have said before, this handsome bird was king of the Canada Geese in the same yard. Then the tables turned. A flock of wild Canada Geese dropped in on it, and the battle began. All alone the Crane would attack these unwelcome refugees. Always the Geese would peck back. At last the Sandhill Crane arose, in a dignified manner, and flew away. We do not think of it as a coward. Sometimes it takes more courage to adopt a sane solution. And, anyway, it was time for him (or her) to seek a mate. Who knows? It may return next fall. And we hope so.

Makes 100th Birthday Plans

Mrs. Alice Greever, a former Jacksonville resident, is making plans for her 100th birthday on June 23.

She is the mother of Mrs. George Carpenter, formerly of Jacksonville, and now resides at Laguna Beach, California, outside Los Angeles.

Mrs. Greever was the subject of an article in the Los Angeles Times and is still very active in all phases of community life.

Mrs. Greever completed her sixth afghan since January and is still working on others. Commenting on her knitting interest: "I wanted to create something I could leave for posterity."

She's been too busy during her 99 years to allow herself to grow into a "rocking chair" woman.

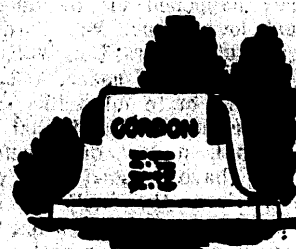

She was born in Iowa in 1872 and at age 16 was already at work teaching students in a one-room country school.

She taught school 4 1/2 years before she married and began raising a family of her own.

Mrs. Greever's real love is history. She reads all the histories and historical novels she can get. The reason she is particularly interested in U.S. history, she explains, is because of the fact that her Dutch ancestors "are old settlers in this country."

She still plays bridge twice a week and apparently makes no more errors than the other three players who are much younger.

Mrs. Carpenter said she will have a reception in honor of her mother on June 23 but no invitations will be sent out.

Delay Spring Field Work In Illinois

Everybody is talking about rain. From the southern tip of the state to the northern tier of counties, Illinois farmers impatiently await a stretch of dry weather to get planting started.

Here's the May 3 report from University of Illinois area agronomists.

Southern Illinois

"We're wet again. Every time the fields get about two days away from being ready to work we get another inch of rain."

That's the way Dale Mills, area agronomist at Carbondale, describes the farm situation in southern Illinois.

Mills says only a few isolated fields of corn have been planted and about 50 percent of the plowing remains to be done.

He says when conditions are optimum, corn planting generally gets underway about April 15 and is mostly complete by May 10.

"Obviously, we won't maintain that schedule this year, but how much we're late will just depend on the weather," he adds.

The farmers who sprayed for alfalfa weevil—and a record number did this year—got good control. Weevils are still feeding in untreated fields.

"Considerable rain fell in this area April 26 and May 1, stopping field work for another week to ten days," says Arden Christiansen, U. of I. area agronomist at Brownstown.

Farmers are continuing to repair machinery to have it in top shape when the fields dry. "Then they'll probably work day and night," he says.

Wheat is about a foot tall now in Christiansen's area and is doing well, except for some yellowing in extremely wet areas.

Crawford County Extension Advisor Boyd Lehr reports that rains have stopped field work in his area also. But he adds that sandy-type soils cover much of the eastern side of the county and farmers should be able to work the sandy fields by May 5. Farmers on the western side of Crawford County will probably not get back in the fields for a week to ten days.

Alfalfa weevils are causing damage in Lehr's area, and the wet conditions are preventing spraying. Much of the alfalfa is ready to cut when conditions improve.

Another 1/4 inch of rain fell on Dixon Springs Agricultural Center (DSAC) May 1. But soil fields were ready to plow by Thursday and prepared ground was dry enough to plant.

George McKibben, DSAC area agronomist, reports 100 acres of corn planted and 40 acres "up and growing." Most corn was planted no-till in sod.

Wheat in the area is growing well, and fall-seeded legumes and pastures look excellent. Some alfalfa weevil damage has been reported.

McKibben says barley yellow dwarf virus has been spotted at DSAC. The disease will probably reduce barley yields in the area.

Eastern Illinois
"Farmers are getting some field work done in this area," reports James Neuschwander, Ford County Extension adviser. Field conditions have been wet but suitable for field work three or four days out of the past week.

Most farmers are finishing oat seeding or are applying fertilizer. And those that don't complete oat seeding soon will probably switch to another crop on the acreage they planned for oats, Neuschwander says.

He expects to see a lot of farmers side-dressing fertilizer this year so they can get right to corn planting. And he expects most of the corn will be planted in his area within the next two weeks, if the rains will hold off.

Western Illinois
Farmers in western Illinois got some corn planted last Wednesday and Thursday (April 26-27). But since that time heavy rains have again stopped all field work.

That's the report from Carroll Chambliss, University of Illinois area agronomist at Macomb. The rains have been exceptionally heavy in the area south of Roseville to Macomb and Carthage, Chambliss says. Severe ponding is widespread on the more level land.

At Kewanee where there was less rain, farmers have continued plowing and have been putting on anhydrous ammonia where fields are dry.

Northern Illinois
Rainy weather is again keeping most farmers out of the fields in northern Illinois, reports Derrell Mulvaney, U. of I. area agronomist at DeKalb. Those farmers that did get in the fields between rainy periods worked only about one full day.

Soil temperatures remain low in Mulvaney's area—mostly in the 40's.

Mulvaney reminds farmers that even though it's tempting to apply fertilizer as soon as the fields dry enough to support machinery, much nitrogen is

FFA Chapter Sends Team To Contest

The Section 15 Future Farmers of America land use selection contest was held recently at Carlinville.

Judging of land sites and the classification of each was the determining factor in the contest.

The Jacksonville chapter placed sixth in competition with other chapters. The top eight schools were: Carrollton, first; Bluffs, second; Carlinville, third; Girard, fourth; Calhoun, fifth; Jacksonville, sixth; Jerseyville, seventh; and Virden, eighth.

Jacksonville representatives were: Jeff Heston, David Mawson, Doug Henderson, Mark Blumling, Alan Mallicoat, Silvan Nergensah, Daryl Quigg, John Christen, Ed Glossop and Randy Miller.

The Jacksonville team was accompanied by William A. Fortschneider, v-e-g instructor and Ross Arnett, student teacher.

OUTLOOK REPORT ON STOCKS SHOWS SITUATION

The USDA report of stocks of grains on hand April 1 was especially important this year, in view of the known shortage of soybeans. The USDA estimated soybean supplies as of April 1 at 551 million bushels—65 million less than last year. This total was a little smaller than many in the trade expected, hence the jump in prices when the market opened the next day. The two most likely reasons for the smaller-than-expected stocks are: (1) The soybean crop harvested last fall may have been slightly smaller than the official estimate. (2) The stocks remaining on farms April 1 could be a little larger than was reported.

Stocks of soybeans at mills, elevators, and warehouses were estimated at 334 million bushels—33 million less than a year before. This figure is quite accurate, since most of these companies are required to report. The farm stocks of soybeans were estimated at 217 million bushels—down 30 million bushels from 1971. This estimate is probably not as accurate as the other figure, since it is possible to poll only a sample of all farmers.

Soybean crushings during the first seven months of this marketing year totaled about 424 million bushels—some 5 percent less than a year before. Exports added to 289 million bushels, the same as last year.

It now appears that soybean stocks may be squeezed down to about 50 million bushels by September 1. That would be only enough to keep the mills and export lines running for about two weeks. On the other hand, soybean oil is meeting strong competition in world markets, and soybean meal prices have been so high that many farmers are feeding it sparingly.

Corn Prices Supported by Loans
Stocks of corn on hand in all positions on April 1 were estimated at 3,344 million bushels—819 million more than last year. Of this total, 1,136 million was under price support. The CCC owned 153 million bushels, 829 million bushels of the 1971 crop was under price-support loans, and farmers still held 173 million bushels of older corn under resale loans.

Probably about 200 million bushels of the 1971 crop that was under loan on April 1 will be needed for domestic use and export before the new crop becomes available next fall. Farmers had redeemed 108 million bushels by April 1. The rate of redemption usually increases rapidly as market prices get more than five cents above the county loan rate.

Domestic use of corn during the January-March quarter was smaller than some observers expected. Indicated usage was up only slightly from the low, year-before figure. In the previous quarter (October-December), domestic disappearance was up 16 percent from last year.

Outlook for Next Year
Prospects for next year are increasingly dominating the corn market. With near-normal weather, the 1972 crop would about equal expected needs for domestic use and exports during 1972-73. Any substantial excess would be put under price-support loans, thus holding prices near the support level.

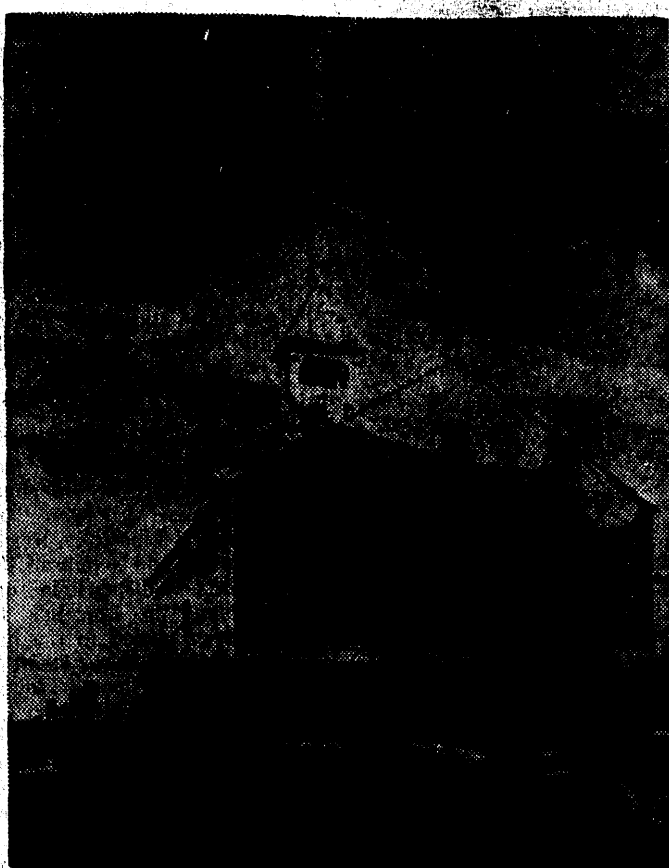

If this year's corn production falls short of market needs, the deficit will be made up by withdrawing 1971 corn that will be under resale loans. Perhaps 500 million bushels could be obtained from this source, with prices 10 to 15 cents above the support level. The relatively high futures prices for the 1972 corn crop suggest that some persons are expecting the price-support loan rate to be raised. Something like that is always a possibility.

Centennial Farm Awards Banquet Here May 23

Present owners of farms that have been in the family for at least a century—in Morgan, Scott, Cass and Menard counties—will be guests at a Centennial Farm Awards banquet Tuesday, May 23.

The hosts will be the Jacksonville Production Credit association, sponsors of the project in this area.

Gene Seybold, PCA vice president, said in a letter addressed to known Centennial Family Farms owners last week:

At Holiday Inn
Dear Centennial Farm Owner: As co-sponsor of this award, we are pleased to advise that an award banquet is being planned by the Jacksonville Production Credit Association. We are proud to serve as your host for this historic event.

We are working closely with the Illinois Department of Agriculture. Gordon L. Ropp, Director, will be presenting the awards. The Centennial Farm Banquet will be held on Tuesday evening, May 23, at the Holiday Inn, 1717 West Morton Road, in Jacksonville, at 6:30 p.m.

Please return the enclosed card no later than Friday, May 12, confirming your reservation. Each Centennial Farm owner is entitled to two free banquet reservations. Should you want additional reservations for reason of family or otherwise, please feel free to advise this office by Friday, May 12, in writing or by phoning 245-6014. Additional reservations are $3.75 each.

The Centennial Farm owner will be presented with a certificate and also a 24" by 24" metal reflectorized sign to be placed in a suitable place on the farm. Advise Protest Of Personal Tax Payment

The Illinois Farm Bureau has warned its members that they should consider paying their 1971 personal property taxes under protest.

Harold B. Steele, president of Illinois Agricultural association, statewide Farm Bureau with a membership of 200,000, said that should the United States Supreme Court declare the Illinois personal property tax law unconstitutional, payment under protest would protect the taxpayers' rights to a refund of taxes paid for 1971.

The 1971 personal property taxes are those assessed a year ago for payment this year.

A case is currently pending before the United States Supreme Court which seeks to have the Illinois personal property tax law declared invalid in that it violates the equal protection clause of the U.S. Constitution.

Steele said the forms necessary for paying personal property taxes under protest will be available to members at county Farm Bureau offices.

The state-wide Farm Bureau had earlier filed an action of its own in federal court seeking to have the Illinois personal property tax law declared invalid. However, this action was dismissed on the grounds that sufficient remedy was available in the Illinois courts.

Most deer in the Midwest give birth to their fawns during June or early July.

Chavez Demands Shift To Farm Labor Push; AFBF Ignores Threat

Cesar Chavez's United Farm Workers National Union, an AFL-CIO affiliate, has threatened a nationwide campaign to attack and discredit the American Farm Bureau Federation and its 2,057,665 member families.

The threat reported by William J. Kuhfuss, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, came in the form of an ultimatum presented to Farm Bureau leadership at its national headquarters in Park Ridge, Ill., on April 26.

The UFW delegation told Farm Bureau that unless it withdrew its efforts by Monday, May 8, to get federal and state farm labor legislation enacted, UFW's national boycott apparatus would be mobilized in a massive "informational" campaign against Farm Bureau in 40 cities.

Currently, Farm Bureau is pressing for enactment of bills in Congress and in several states to guarantee secret ballot elections for farm workers, and to prohibit the secondary boycott for agriculture as it is presently prohibited in industry under the National Labor Relations Act.

Ignores Threat
Federation President Kuhfuss responded to the ultimatum with a "reassurance to agriculture and the nation that Farm Bureau would intensify its efforts to get fair and constructive farm labor legislation that would protect the constitutional rights of workers to organize freely, and farmers to be protected against the ravages of coercive boycotts that force them to sign over their work force—or go out of business."

Kuhfuss said that under Farm Bureau policy "we uphold the right of employees to bargain collectively, but condemn the use by either labor or management of force, coercion, intimidation, secondary boycotts, or other unfair means applied by one side to force its will upon the other."

Active in Legislatures
Farm Bureau is currently active in supporting farm labor legislation in Congress and in several state legislatures, including Arizona, Colorado, New York, Oregon, and Wyoming.

Farm labor bills have been passed in Kansas and Idaho. A fair labor practices initiative has been proposed for voters of California, and is supported by Farm Bureau.

Chavez's delegation consisted of the Rev. Wayne C. Hartnire, Los Angeles, of the California

Migrant Ministry and longtime Chavez aide: LeRoy Chaffield, Delano, Calif., and a member of the UFW board of directors, and Eliseo Medina, Delano, Imperial Valley boycott coordinator, and former head of Chavez operations in Chicago.

May 10 Deadline For Federal Crop Insurance

Farmers are reminded that May 10 is the final date for sign-up for participation in the Federal "All-Risk" Crop Insurance program offered through the U.S. Department of Agriculture for 1972 corn and soybeans.

Federal Crop Insurance protects these crops against all natural hazards beyond the farmer's control.

George Greathouse, District Supervisor urges farmers who are interested in this protection to contact the office at 426 West Jefferson, Springfield, Illinois, in person or by phone before May 10. The Springfield office services Cass, Champaign, Christian, Logan, Macon, Macon, Menard, Morgan, Platt, Sangamon, and Vermilion counties.

Farmers located on the west side of the river should contact the office at 211 South Madison Street, Pittsfield, Ill.

Mt. Pulaski Courthouse Renovated

SPRINGFIELD — Mt. Pulaski Courthouse State Memorial, regularly visited by Abraham Lincoln during his years as a circuit-riding attorney, has been given a "lived-in look," according to Ronald D. Johnson, superintendent of the Division of Parks and Memorials.

Extensive refurbishing of the interior, including rescue of the County Treasurer's office from its use as a storeroom, has helped to recreate the atmosphere a visitor 120 years ago would have found there, Johnson reported.

Stove pipes have been installed on unconnected stoves in the offices. Two tin chandeliers donated by Logan County Abraham Lincoln Heritage Foundation and a pair of brass cuspidors, indispensable office furnishings in Lincoln's time have been placed in the building, along with many small artifacts such as candle sconces, inkwells and coat racks.

To add further to the realistic "just out to lunch" environment, stove ashes, keys, coffee pots and cups, open books, pens, stove lifters, bottles, a few papers, official-looking documents, and even cigar and pipe ashes have been distributed strategically through the former county offices, noted Mrs. Annie Buckles, custodian.

Mt. Pulaski courthouse, once the seat of Logan county government, is regarded as the purest and best existing example of courthouses found throughout the old 15-county Eighth Judicial Circuit. It also is considered one of the state's most outstanding examples of Greek Revival architecture.

The two-story brick structure is more than 70 percent in its original state. Built in 1847, it was the county seat until 1853, then served as a schoolhouse until 1878. Thereafter, until it was acquired in 1936 by the state as an historic memorial, it was used as the village hall, as the jail, library, post office and finally, as a headquarters for town officials.

Travel writers representing a number of national publications visited the memorial recently as part of a Lincoln Historical Sites tour.

The New Postoffice

The Athens of the West got a new postoffice a hundred years ago, moved from "the old dilapidated stand on South Main street" to a completely new and elegant place on West State street.

The new postoffice was especially designed to give "better service to the postal patrons."

That's the way it goes in government circles. No matter what government touches it just dwindles away, and this has been known for centuries, but government always "expands" its services for the good of people.

This is some joke. For 20 years the Internal Revenue Service has been "simplifying its return blanks" and now a fifth grader has absolutely no trouble filling them out.

That's what an IRS news release said two months ago. Now I'd like to meet one of those smart fifth graders. Maybe he or she could tell me the purpose of Apollo-16.

Decay Slow, Sure But government decay, though persistent, is usually slow and people don't realize how decadent it has become. The postal department is a fine example; it operated much better a century ago than it does today.

Capt. Horace Chapin, who lost part of his right foot in the Battle of Chickamauga, was the postmaster, but he had been called to Washington to help the National Republican committee elect Gen. U. S. Grant. He named his business associate, young D. M. Simmons, local editor of the Jacksonville Daily JOURNAL, acting postmaster before he went to Washington.

After Grant's victory Chapin won a prized plum. There were a couple of dozen applicants for P.M. of the Springfield office, and to solve the problem the committee in charge gave the office to Chapin, amidst the cries of many disappointed applicants yelling "Carpetbagger."

Soon after this Chapin sold his half interest in the Jacksonville Daily JOURNAL and bought a half interest in the Illinois State Journal, and both prospered. But he always maintained his home at North Main and Oak streets, Jacksonville, and there he died.

Plenty of Trains Every train brought in fresh mail and took away fresh mail, and there were many trains through Jacksonville in 1872.

The Toledo, Wabash, and Western ran three trains, each way, from New York to St. Louis.

The Peoria, Pekin and St. Louis ran two trains each way daily, with connections in Peoria "for Chicago and all eastern points."

The Jacksonville Northwestern and Southeastern ran two trains daily, from Virden to Jacksonville, with connections for Louisville, Cairo and St. Louis.

The Chicago and Alton, the old St. Louis, Jacksonville, and Chicago R.R., ran three trains a day, both north and south.

Only One Wagon Mail At that time the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis, which later became the Burlington, didn't run through this town, but it too ran three trains a day, dropping off Jacksonville and Springfield mail at or more lives.

According to records maintained by the Statistical Bureau of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., almost 1,150 persons were killed during 1971 as a result of catastrophic accidents—that is, accidents taking five Chapin and there picking up pouches for Winchester, White Hall, Carrollton and St. Louis, or up to Concord and Beards-town, and there all directions northwest and northeast.

There was no stage mail any more, because there wasn't any stage coaches by then. There was a daily mail that came in from Lynnville on a spring wagon drawn by one horse when the roads were good and by a team when the roads were foul. It left Lynnville every morning at nine bells and tried to get back by three, and usually did.

Those Wonderful Mail Clerks All of the trains carried mail cars manned by railway mail clerks, and they were sheer geniuses. They knew how to route mail by the fastest way from here to there. Service was accurate and fast. You could write a friend in Virginia and have the letter in the postoffice at 3 p.m., and have his reply in the postoffice at 6 p.m., in case he wanted to answer you.

Now our mail is efficiently trucked to Springfield where it is efficiently sorted and efficiently dispatched, finally.

And the service cost a penny for postcards and two cents for a first class letter. Yet the anti-Grant men were yelling like crazy because it appeared that maybe the Postoffice Department would go in the hole in fiscal 1872. It didn't.

Now take a look. I don't know where the new postoffice was located, because none of the buildings were numbered in those days. But I believe it was on the north side of the street, maybe where Bill Wilson has his law office. Or, maybe a notch to the east.

Here's what the new postmaster, pro tem, had to say about the move from South Main street:

THE POST OFFICE—Yesterday the Jacksonville post office was metamorphosed into quite a convenient and presentable receptacle for mail matter.

The government having taken over a lease on the building, Mr. Chas. Cassell, agreed to fix up in a style more in accordance with the demands of a city having three young ladies' seminaries and such a paper as the Daily JOURNAL.

A brick addition of about twenty feet was built in the rear, thus giving more room longitudinally. The boxes were then re-arranged in a more symmetrical and attractive manner, and a large number of new ones added, including about 100 drawers, not in pairs.

Two general delivery windows are now in place, one for the ladies, and one for gents, while the money order department is defended, when not in use, by a glass door. Six hundred and thirty new boxes have been added, giving a grand total of 1,500 boxes, not including the coal box.

The letter boxes are all nearer together internally, so that the gentlemanly clerks, who, with sweet smiles and winning grace, insert the missive into the appropriate aperture, are not obliged to wear out their No. E's by walking so far as formerly. Altogether the improvement is very great, and when the room is painted, papered and cleaned up generally, a man will be proud to think that he lives in the same town with such a post office.

Yes, service was much improved, as anybody can plainly see.

Every member of the bridge columnists union is entitled to his stock of trick hands. The stock is limited, so that all columnists use these same trick hands whenever the spirit moves them.

These trick hands don't have to appear at all complicated. Take today's hand as an example. It looks easy enough. South makes the obvious play of letting the spade lead come around to his king. Then he looks over the hand carefully and sees that, if he lays down the ace of trumps, he will guard against the only danger to the success of his contract, which is to find all four trumps in one hand.

So he lays down the ace of trumps and is pleased with his forethought. West does hold all four trumps.

Several minutes later, he is less pleased because he can't collect ten tricks. He can lead a trump to dummy's nine at the next trick. Then he can play three rounds of diamonds and ruff the third one with dummy's last low trump. Next he cashes dummy's king of trumps and would be home free if he could only find some way to get back to his own hand to pick up that pesky jack of trumps that is still left in the West hand.

Where did South go wrong? If he had stopped to think before playing low from dummy at trick one, he would have seen the danger of four trumps in the West hand and the possible need for an extra entry to his own hand. Then he would have won the first trick with dummy's ace of spades, led a trump to his ace and eventually made the game.

State Firms Fail To File

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Price Commission released Saturday the names of 400 major firms, including more than 30 in Illinois, which it says failed to file quarterly reports on their profits.

Warning telegrams are going out to the firms or their parent companies notifying them that failure to provide the necessary reports will result in fines or orders to reduce their prices.

The commission said the companies have five days to comply after receiving the telegrams.

The firms identified by the commission Saturday are those having an annual business volume of $100 million or more. Those in this category are required to give advance notice of price increases and to make quarterly reports to the commission.

More than 1,100 other firms, having business in the $50 million to $100 million range also have been cited by the commission but names of these companies have not been released. Illinois firms named Saturday:

Mrs. Meir Meets With Ceausescu On Middle East

BUCHAREST, Romania (UPI)—Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir canceled a sightseeing tour Saturday for four more hours of talks with Romanian President Nicolae Ceausescu on various international problems, including the Middle East. The two met for five hours on Friday.

Romanian government sources said Ceausescu was seeking a formula to bring the Arabs and Israelis to the negotiating table.

An Israeli government spokesman said Ceausescu brought no new peace offer from Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, whom he met in Cairo last month.

"He simply presented his impressions of Arab views on a Middle East peace settlement," the spokesman said.

In an interview published in the Yugoslav weekly magazine Nin Saturday, Ceausescu said "Romania is vitally interested in the soonest possible settlement of the Middle East conflict."

"It is necessary that all countries... a political settlement... conflict should act more... for contributing to the achievement of peace," Ceausescu said.

All previous mediation efforts, by U.N. special envoy Gunnar V. Jarring, the Big Four powers and a group of African leaders, have been fruitless.

Success in bringing the Arabs and the Israelis together would mean total vindication of Ceausescu's Middle East peace policy. Romania was the only Warsaw Pact nation that did not break diplomatic relations with Israel during the 1967 Middle East war.

Mrs. Meir, who is the first Israeli premier to visit any Communist state, returns to Tel Aviv Sunday.

MILLS SUPPORTS QUICK ACTION ON BUSING ISSUE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., publicly threw his support Saturday behind a move to force early House action on a proposed constitutional amendment outlawing busing of children for school desegregation.

Mills said he has been working to line up enough signatures for a discharge petition to force the anti-busing amendment out of the House Judiciary Committee for a floor vote.

"I think that if the (amendment) can be brought to the floor we can pass it by the two-thirds vote which is, of course, required," said the House Ways and Means Committee chairman, who is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The National Broadcasting Company won an Emmy for special coverage June 30, 1971, on the Supreme Court decision on the Pentagon papers. The Columbia Broadcasting System was mentioned for the coverage of Apollo 15, last July and August.

"The Defeat of Dacca" on the NBC Nightly News Dec. 18, 1971, was honored for a program segment within a news program and reporter Phil Brady won an individual award for the same segment. Individual awards also went to Bob Schieffer, Phil Jones, Don Webster and Bill Plante, correspondents on "The Air War," on the CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite, Dec. 20-24, 1971.

Wallace

North Carolina. Both ran poorly.

Wallace sentiment ran high in other metropolitan areas where busing resentment has been strong—Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Wilmington.

Wallace also took an early lead in Raleigh, the capital, but Sanford, who lived there four years while governor, moved ahead by a slight margin.

Sanford is now president of Duke University. He has campaigned mainly in North Carolina since announcing his candidacy. Wallace, seemingly confident of victory, made only a few North Carolina appearances. He was campaigning in Maryland Saturday when the Tar Heel State voted.

Sanford, credited by some with being the first of the progressive "New South" governors, was hit with the busing bombshell by Wallace on Friday. Sanford accused Wallace of a last-minute smear.

"If you favor busing, you should vote for him (Sanford)," said Wallace at a Greenville rally. "But if you are against busing, you should vote for me."

Wallace charged at Greenville and later at Charlotte that "Governor Sanford has given $1,000 to help bring busing about. I haven't given any."

Government sources reported 75 Communists slain Friday in a clash on Highway 14 nine miles south of Kontum with loss of 9 ARVN troops killed and 37 wounded. A force of 1,000 South Vietnamese paratroopers has been attempting to clear the 30-mile stretch between Pleiku and Kontum but so far they have been able to open the highway only at night.

Heavy fighting broke out around Duc Thanh, a district town 34 miles southeast of Saigon, and a spokesman said at least 142 guerrillas were killed and that the defending militiamen suffered 16 dead and 5 wounded. The Communists also blew up a bridge 18 miles southwest of Saigon, cutting a main highway to the Mekong Delta.

UPI correspondent Donald Davis reported from Hue that there were shelling attacks and ground probes at artillery bases in Birmingham and King, guarding the western approaches to Hue, six to eight miles from the city. Government soldiers there reported killing 240 Communist soldiers, mostly by air strikes, at a loss of two dead and 11 wounded. B52s heavily pounded the area.

The South Vietnamese said in a battle three miles south of An Loc and 57 miles north of Saigon South Vietnamese killed 45 Communists in a firefight on Highway 13 and that South Vietnamese A37 Dragonfly jets and prop-driven A1E Skyraider fighter-bombers killed 110 others nearby. Government losses were put at seven killed and 43 wounded in the Friday action.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Relatives of American prisoners of war split sharply and emotionally Saturday over the administration's Vietnam policy, pointedly underscoring their differences by speculating on how their men reacted to the recent bombing of Hanoi.

"He would have stood up and cheered," declared Mrs. James B. Stockdale, arousing cheers from families of other POWs and men missing in action.

ordered the plane, which was enroute to Miami with a stop scheduled at the Washington National Airport, to Dulles Airport near Washington, D.C. in rural Virginia where he picked up $303,000 in ransom.

Dissatisfied with the small denomination of the bills he demanded $1,000 and $500 bill substitutes. Eastern officials sent planes to New York and Miami to pick up the large bills from banks. A plane also was sent to Richmond, Va., site of the Federal Reserve Bank.

Eastern said the hijacker kept $45,000 of the original money and the airline handed over $258,000 after he returned the same amount of original money.

From Dulles the hijacked plane and its original crew flew to New Orleans. The hijacked craft was followed by another jet carrying federal agents armed with high powered rifles.

At New Orleans he ordered the plane refueled and was told the craft's hydraulic system was malfunctioning. Instead of waiting for repairs, he ordered a new plane. The replacement craft—also a 727—was backed tail to tail with the hijacked plane.

The hijacker, carrying his gun and encircled by stewardesses and other crew members to shield him from possible sharpshooters, FBI agents, transferred his gear, including six parachutes he had demanded and received, from the one plane to the other.

From New Orleans the plane flew south landing at Merida, Mexico, a city on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico. After refueling it continued south over Central America. After the hijacker jumped, the aircraft returned to Merida where the crew rested for several hours before flying to Miami.

WHITE HALL ALUMNI TICKET SALES TO BEGIN

James L. Guis has announced that tickets for the 85th annual White Hall High School Alumni banquet and dance will go on sale Saturday, May 8, at 9 a.m. at the White Hall National Bank. A limited number of tickets are available and will be sold on a first come, first served basis. The banquet will be served at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist church with the dance to be in the old gym at North Greene High School. Mrs. L. S. Griswold, assisted by wives of members of the 1922 class, will hold a reception at her home.

Sunday Reception
Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Barnett, long time residents of White Hall, are preparing to move to Florida to reside. They will be guests of honor at a reception at the First Christian church Sunday, May 7 from 3 to 5 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Barnett is the former Helen Beatty. The couple was married in 1920 at the local Christian church parsonage. They are the parents of a daughter, Mrs. Marshall Stearns of Florida, who arrived during the week to assist her parents in the move.

Mrs. Barnett taught continuously in the school area until her retirement in 1950. Mr. Barnett served as city treasurer for 30 years, several terms as city clerk and during World War I. He is a charter member of the Lions club, American Legion Post 70, and for 35 years was a member of District 66 Board of Education.

Mrs. Barnett has continued her musical teaching with a large number of pupils at her home and is active in local musical circles.

Prior to the reception, a half hour musical program will be presented in the church, conducted by Mrs. Navana Hope Ahrends of Pontiac, Ill., a former pupil of Mrs. Barnett. A Love Box will be placed in the church to receive letters and telegrams to the honorees.

MERRITT VINTORS
Mrs. Evelyn Lee of Indianapolis and Mrs. Mary Ellen Shipley of Winchester visited with Mrs. Anna Hitt on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hinds of St. Louis visited with Arthur Bentler on Tuesday.

The organization, largest of its kind, gathered for the weekend in a Virginia motel across the Potomac River from Washington "to evaluate the progress made by the Nixon administration" in freeing the prisoners and to decide how or whether the league should move in the 1972 election year.

League members are to vote Sunday on any resolutions

League activists want to abandon the organization's present "humanitarian" stance and plunge into open, political criticism of the administration, which they claim has occasionally received tacit support from the supposedly "neutral" league.

With Five Months Of Labor

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP
NEW YORK (UPI) — May 31 will be a red letter day for the average American wage earner working a 40-hour, five-day week. He will on that day have earned enough this year to pay his 1972 federal, state and local taxes.

The rest of the year's earnings after Tax Freedom Day will be gravy for the "average" worker but not for residents of the nation's 11 most expensive states—New York, Hawaii, California, Nevada, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Illinois, Connecticut, Maryland, Vermont and Michigan.

In addition to the $1,865 federal income tax burden borne by the average worker and the median state-local levy of about $460, the residents of these states will pay an additional $4 (Michigan) to $200 (New York) in state-local taxes.

The fact that federal taxes were reduced slightly in 1971 was lost on a majority of Americans as they witnessed passage of new or higher taxes by their state legislatures. State taxes have outdistanced local taxes—which once predominated—although local property taxes still account for two-fifths of the state-local tax bundle.

Federal tax relief also was offset by a hike this year in income tax withholding, so that overwithholding may run as high as $8 billion. That money will remain tied up until taxpayers file refund claims in 1973.

New Yorkers Most Taxed
New Yorkers are the most taxed of all Americans, shelling out $652 per capita in state-local levies in 1970, the last year for which complete figures are available. They are currently paying considerably more because of 1971-72 tax hikes.

Hawaiians, second most heavily taxed, pay $80 less than New Yorkers in state-local taxes, but their state tax alone runs $133 higher per capita than New York's. Californians, in third place, pay $100 less than New Yorkers.

Arkansas residents get off easiest on state-local taxes—a mere $252 per capita, according to latest figures. Alabamians pay only $250 and South Carolinians $274.

Oklahoma residents probably are the most fortunate taxpayers in that their state-local taxes increased only 73 per cent in the past decade, less than any other state. New York's rose 159 per cent.

The Tax Burden

The dizzying pace of the American money-go-round is reflected in the following statistics:

—The average American will pay more in 1972 in withholding taxes on wages and other income, sales taxes, and hidden taxes, than he does for the basic necessities—food, clothing, shelter.

—He will work 117 days—or through May 31 on a five-day week schedule—to pay his taxes. This means 2 hours and 34 minutes of every working day throughout the year, three minutes more than he works for basic necessities.

—State and local taxes more than doubled in 33 states in the past decade, with 30 states adopting new taxes or increasing existing taxes in 1971 for $5 billion extra revenue.

—Twenty of the 41 states holding legislative sessions this year are considering proposals for new and higher state taxes that would take another $7 billion out of the public's wallets.

—The federal tax burden for the average American household (based on U.S. census household figures) for the government's 1973 fiscal year, starting next July 1, will increase $62 over the 1972 levy for a $3,227 total, according to an estimate by the Tax Foundation, Inc.

Where's It All Go?

The New York-based foundation broke down this $3,227 total to show just where those federal tax dollars go.

Health and welfare, including social insurance, gets the lion's bite—$1,150. (Residents of 21 states paid more than their state's share in federal aid programs and actually helped support grants-in-aid to 29 other states.)

Other outlays are $1,026 for national defense, $277 for interest on the national debt, $154 for benefits and services for veterans of four wars, $151 for commerce and transportation, $148 for education and manpower training, and $138 for government administration.

The balance goes in lesser amounts for agriculture and agricultural resources, community development and housing, international affairs and finance, space research and technology ($42), and natural resources.

The exploding costs of war and defense, education, welfare and government administration has resulted in coast-to-coast

Maubilla Battle

GROVE HILL, Ala. (UPI)—What is believed to have been the bloodiest battle ever fought between whites and Indians in North America took place in 1540 at an Indian village called Maubilla somewhere in Clarke County, according to a leading Alabama historian.

The battle was between Spaniards led by Hernando DeSoto and Indians led by Chief Tuscaloosa. During the nine-hour battle more than 20 Spaniards were left dead or dying and the estimate of the number of Indians killed ranges from 2,500 to 11,000.

Paying Back The Indians: What's It Doing For Them?

FORT WASHAKIE, Wyo. (AP) — Half covered by snow, the purple-hued Wind River Range of the Rocky Mountains rises majestically above the three-room frame home of Harrison Shoyo.

Shoyo, 45, was born near these mountains and probably will die here.

Nine members of his family live in the house, which lies on 20 acres of land near the base of the mountains. Temperatures frequently plunge below zero during the cold Wyoming winters, and Shoyo says his house isn't well insulated.

Shoyo is a full-blooded member of the Eastern Band of Shoshone Indians who live on the Wind River Reservation.

Until recently he was in no position even to think about needed repairs to his dwelling. Shoyo's income amounted to the $50 each he, his wife and their three school-age children received in monthly tribal payments, plus the modest income he earns as a repair-maintenance employee for the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

That all changed Jan. 21 when the family's monthly tribal check amounted to more than $1,200.

The windfall reflected the first of 12 payments the Wind River Shoshones will receive as their $6,545,000 share of a $15.7 million additional compensation award for 38 million acres taken from three Shoshone tribes by the federal government in 1868-69.

There were 2,128 enrolled Wind River Shoshones in January, and each is scheduled to receive $2,400 during a one-year period. That is in addition to their regular monthly payments of $50 each as a share of oil and gas royalties the tribe receives from the nine fields being worked on the reservation.

For the Shoyos, the land-payment claims mean $12,000 by next Jan. 1. Then the payments stop.

The land-payment checks represent more money than many tribal members ever before have received at one time. More importantly, the money represents a chance to get ahead.

The Shoshones, who share the reservation in west-central Wyoming with the northern band of Arapahoes, reside mainly in the Fort Washakie area.

John Tidzump, another Shoshone who lives on the reservation with his wife and three grandchildren, said he would use his first land-payment check to pay bills. "But the next payment we'll try to save," he said.

Clyde Hobbs, BIA reservation supervisor for the past 10½ years, said he didn't notice a great deal of difference when Shoshones received their first land-payment checks.

Hobbs said 25 Shoshones left their funds with the BIA to draw interest, while banks in the nearby non-reservation community of Lander reported tribal members opened nearly 50 new checking and savings accounts in the first week after receiving the checks.

Although many Shoshones purchased a wide variety of consumer goods, including appliances and autos, businesses in Lander reported no major increase in sales.

The long-awaited payments finally became a reality Dec. 22 when President Nixon signed into law a bill authorizing the claims to the Wind River Shoshones, the Shoshone-Bannocks of Idaho and the Northwestern Shoshones in Utah.

The three tribes had been bickering for more than three years about the funds, which were approved in 1968 by the Indian Claims Commission. The tribes were awarded some $1.5 million for the lands in 1868, but filed claims for additional compensation shortly after World War II.

The Wind River Shoshones will distribute 85 per cent of their $6,545,000 to tribal members with the other 15 per cent going to the six-member Tribal Business Council for use in Interior Department-approved projects. The 85-15 per cent ratio is the same used for distribution of other tribal funds.

"Of course, the people were very happy to finally receive the payments," said Larry Murray, a Business Council member. "Some of the older ones had felt it wouldn't happen until they were dead."

The Business Council will receive approximately $1 million as its share of the claims payments and will use $750,000 of that to establish a tribal-run loan program.

The Shoshone Business Council also will use part of its funds for a land-purchase program. Individual tribal members owning heirship land sometimes sell the property, which then is held in trust by the BIA. The tribe then can purchase the land and lease it back to individual Shoshones for farming or ranching.

Murray said educational opportunities for young reservation Indians are improving, "although the drop-out rate is still high."

The two tribes now budget $75,000-$80,000 per year for college scholarships.

"I've seen the tribes take more and more interest in education," said Hobbs. He said latest figures showed 83 members of the two tribes were enrolled in college and another 30 in vocational schools.

"This is three times as many as when I came here," he said. But the opportunities for college graduates are extremely limited on the reservation, and many who obtain degrees don't return.

Hobbs said of the 5,058 enrolled members of the two tribes, about 1,000 don't live on the reservation. However, they still receive tribal payments and are sharing in the land-claim funds.

Other than agriculture, the opportunities on the reservation are few.

"There is no money to build large plants on the reservation," Murray said. "In the year I've been on the council there was only one serious attempt to attract an industry, and that fell through."

The reservation also is rich in natural resources and has unexploited reserves of coal, gypsum and phosphate in addition to oil and gas.

Of the Shoshone tribe's projected 1972 income of $1,686,400, which doesn't include the land-claim payments, $1.5 million will come from oil and gas royalties and $82,400 from leasing land for sand and gravel production.

Scientific Program, Building Dedication Scheduled At Mac

A symposium program featuring some of the world's leading scientists will be held at MacMurray College Friday and Saturday (May 12 and 13) in conjunction with the dedication of MacMurray's chemistry building in honor of Dr. Percy Lavon Julian.

The symposium sessions, which are scheduled for Friday morning and afternoon and Saturday morning, will include individual presentations and panel discussions dealing with organic chemistry and recent changes in science education.

Dr. Max Tishler, President of the American Chemical Society and Nobel Prize Winner for Chemistry, will be the featured speaker at Saturday's dedication program.

The public is invited to attend the 2 p.m. dedication program, which will be held in Bailey Auditorium in the college's chemistry building. The formal act of naming the building "The Percy Lavon Julian Hall of Chemistry" will be conducted by Raymond C. Dickerson, Chairman of the MacMurray College Board of Trustees. MacMurray President John J. Wittich will preside over the dedication ceremonies.

In addition to the symposium sessions and dedication program, area residents are cordially invited to attend an open house in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Julian which will be held Thursday evening from 8 to 9:30 p.m. at the home of MacMurray President and Mrs. John J. Wittich, 339 East State Street.

The already completed chemistry building at MacMurray contains six major laboratories in addition to individual research labs, two classrooms, and a 400 seat auditorium named in honor of the late Dr. William Fleming Bailey. SPRINGFIELD — Firemen check a second-story porch Saturday at the Carver Convalescent Home after a fire killed nine persons. The early morning blaze was believed to have started on the second floor while elderly residents slept. (UPI Photo)

Nursing Home Fire Kills Nine In Springfield

By ROBERT KIECKHEFER
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—

A fire engulfed an old people's home while its residents slept Saturday. Nine of the 40 persons inside were killed and the rest were hospitalized, two in critical condition.

The house had been inspected Friday by the state fire marshal's office.

The flames broke out about dawn on the second floor of the two-story, frame Carver Convalescent Home. By the time firemen arrived, most of the second floor was in flames.

The house is located in a poor section of this capital city. In some rooms there were as many as five or six beds.

Nine residents of the home were pronounced dead at Memorial Hospital. Ten survivors and one employee were admitted and two of the patients were listed in critical condition. The other 21 survivors were taken to St. John's Hospital. Even those who suffered no apparent injury were hospitalized as a precaution, officials said.

Names of those killed were not immediately available.

White House Distressed About Springfield Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is deeply distressed about a nursing home fire that killed nine in Springfield, Ill., early Saturday, and wonders if the home had smoke or fire detectors, a presidential fire-control panel said.

The statement by the National Commission on Fire Prevention and Control said Nixon was "deeply distressed about the loss of nine lives and the injury of more than 30 people in the fire at the Carver Convalescent Center in Springfield, Ill."

"The President's National Commission on Fire Prevention and Control would like to know if the center had smoke or fire detectors in operation," the statement said. "We would like to know also about their evacuation plans and the condition of the wiring in the center."

The commission is doing a two-year study of America's fire problems to report to the President and to Congress.

Dr. Theodore T. Rose, pastor of All Nation Tabernacle a few blocks from the scene, was one of the first to arrive at the fire.

"They were all old people," Dr. Rose said. "They couldn't handle themselves getting out. They were sleeping and all ... The fire department and police department did their best. If they hadn't moved as fast as they did, we'd have lost them all from smoke inhalation."

The building had been examined by the fire marshal's office after two inspections by the Illinois Department of Public Health which found several deficiencies. Results of the fire marshal's inspection were not available.

Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the state public health department, said, "On March 30 our inspector reported several deficiencies that constitute a fire hazard. Personnel were not trained in the use of fire extinguishers. There was no evacuation plan and no emergency lights. At a followup inspection, we found that many of the major deficiencies had been corrected and progress toward compliance with public health standards was evident."

Yoder said the home was licensed and met current state standards but the state fire marshal was notified because inspectors discovered there had been no fire inspection since February, 1971.

The State Department of Public Aid said 38 of the 40 residents of the home were public aid recipients. It said four survivors would be moved Saturday from Springfield hospitals to nursing care facilities and another 15 or 16 would be removed from hospitals in the next two days.

State Public Health Department officials said the home obtained a provisional license last August to operate as an intermediate facility.

Paul Elbow, in charge of licensing for the department, said a provisional allowance was part of a transition program begun in 1971 to remove nursing care from buildings which do not meet safety standards. He said frame buildings would not be permitted to be used as nursing care facilities after 1975.

The Carver home he said, was one of a number of facilities that was in transition from providing nursing care to offering only "shelter care," or supervision of daily activities.

The home is licensed as a 52-bed facility, he said, and "met licensing standards."

David M. Kennedy, U.S. Permanent Representative on the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and former Secretary of the Treasury, will deliver the 1972 Commencement address at Illinois College, Jacksonville.

Ambassador Kennedy has combined an active career in both public finance and private banking with extensive service in numerous civic capacities. From January, 1959, until becoming Secretary of the Treasury in 1969, he was chairman of the board of directors and chief executive officer of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company of Chicago.

Ambassador Kennedy has been active in public service and charity work. He has served as director of many Chicago charity campaigns and for more than a decade was a trustee of the Presbyterian St. Luke's hospital. He has been a member of several federal government advisory panels under both Republican and Democratic administrations.

VINYL IS FINAL®...THAT'S THE BEAUTY OF IT!

Solid vinyl is the most maintenance-free house covering ever developed. Needs no painting . . . won't dent like metal . . . can't peel or rot . . . unaffected by acids that eat through steel in seconds . . . shrugs off lightning . . . won't absorb moisture. Keeps your home beautiful while it saves you a small fortune on upkeep.

Look how these amazing solid-vinyl products save you money

Never Paint Again!
Colored clear through, solid vinyl never needs painting, not even touch-up. The thickness of the product is the thickness of the finish!

Resists Denting
Vinyl is tough and resilient. Jars and jolts that would damage most other siding will not affect solid vinyl at all.

Won't Conduct Electricity
No grounding needed, and it won't interfere with TV reception. Won't support combustion either, so it makes the home safer from fires.

Save Fuel
Solid vinyl is an excellent insulator. Makes your entire home warmer in the winter, cooler in summer, and more comfortable 12 months a year.

Rinses Clean
Now you can "paint" your home with a garden hose. Just rinsing the house makes it clean and sparkling as new.
